INDIANS AMONG LEAST HAPPY IN LOVE: SURVEY

A day ahead of Valentine's Day, a global survey conducted across 30 countries revealed that Indians are among the least satisfied with their love lives. Colombia topped the 'Love Life Satisfaction 2025' survey, conducted by research firm Ipsos, which interviewed 23,765 adults, including 2,200 Indians. Dear Sir,

VOLUNTARY VACATION OF SERVICE

It is observed that you have been absenting from duty, despite your leave being refused/beyond the period of sanctioned leave, since 15.07.2021. In this connection, we refer to the Registered A. D. notice Misc/248 dated 17.03.2022 (and paper publication on 28.09.2024), issued by the Assistant General Manager, RACPC-III Banaswadi instructing you to report for duty and explain the reasons for your absence within 30 days of the notice. It is, however, observed that you have so for not complied with the instructions contained therein.

2. Now that you have failed to report for duty in spite of the above said notice, it is deemed that you have voluntarily vacated your service amounting to voluntary resignation from service of the Bank with effect from 29.10.2024.

3. You are hereby requested to pay three months emoluments within 15 days of the receipt of this notice, failing which the Bank will be constrained to set off the same against your terminal dues and any other amount payable to you without prejudice to recovering the full amount or part thereof by suit.

Yours faithfully.
General Manager. NW I, Appointing Authority

TURKEY ASKS INDIA, PAKISTAN TO SOLVE KASHMIR ISSUE THROUGH TALKS

Turkish President Recep Erdogan on Thursday said the Kashmir issue should be resolved through dialogue between India and Pakistan

ERDOGAN MEETS SHARIF IN ISLAMABAD

The Turkish president, who is on a two-day visit to Pakistan, made the comments after holding one-on-one and delegation-level talks with Pakistan Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif in Islamabad. "The Kashmir issue should be addressed according to the UN resolution through dialogue and keeping in mind the aspirations of the people of Kashmir," he said

BOTH COUNTRIES AGREE TO STRENGTHEN TIES

- Erdogan's comments come months after he avoided mentioning the Kashmir issue at the UN General Assembly for the first time in 10 years, seen as an attempt to improve relations with India
- Erdogan said Turkey and Pakistan have agreed to further boost their ties and 24 agreements and MoU have been signed during his visit

GIM: Volvo to invest ₹1.4k cr in Karnataka

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

VOLVO Group has announced expansion of its manufacturing operations in the state with Rs 1,400 crore investment.

The company has signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with the state government to set up its fourth international manufacturing hub in Hoskote.

The new facility is expected to create over 2,000 direct jobs and significantly boost exports. The production capacity at the Hoskote facility is set to increase, from 3,000 to 20,000 trucks and buses annually, catering to both Indian and international markets.

Volvo Group CEO Martin Lundstedt said the Hoskote facility's expansion will not only increase production capacity but also secure India and Karnataka's place in the global supply chain.

"This expansion will enable us to manufacture up to 20,000 buses/trucks per year, meet local market demands, and contribute significantly to job creation," he said.

The new hub in Hoskote will serve as a key node in Volvo's global operations, joining the company's existing manufacturing units in Peenya, Hoskote and Dharwad.

President's rule imposed in Manipur

MUKESH RANJAN & PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ New Delhi/Guwahati

Security forces in Manipur are on high alert following President's rule | PTI

PRESIDENT'S rule was imposed in strife-torn Manipur on Thursday and the state assembly put under suspended animation days after Chief Minister N Biren Singh resigned, leading to a political vacuum in the state.

Singh had resigned on February 9 after meeting Union Home Minister Amit Shah. The decision to impose President's rule was taken after Governor Ajay Kumar Bhalla sent a report to President Droupadi Murmu. A notification by the Ministry of Home Affairs on behalf of Rashtrapati Bhavan said, "In exercise of powers conferred by Article 356 of the Constitution, I assume as President all functions of the government of Manipur."

The decision comes as the BJP failed to find a consensus chief ministerial candidate despite hectic parleys between the party's northeast in-charge Sambit Patra and MLAs. Patra had met Governor Bhalla before Thursday's decision. Patra had met Governor Bhalla before Thursday's decision by the central government.

The governor has already declared the seventh session of the 12th Manipur Legislative assembly, which was to commence on February 10, as null and void. The last session of the assembly concluded on August 12, 2024. Singh's tenure was marked by ethnic violence that erupted in May 2023 between the majority Meitei community in the Imphal Valley and the Kuki-Zo tribal groups in the surrounding hills, resulting in over 250 deaths. Singh's response to the violence included a public apology in December 2023.

In February, a new controversy erupted when audio tapes allegedly featuring Singh were leaked, in which he was purportedly heard discussing how the ethnic violence was instigated with his approval.

His resignation preceded the Supreme Court asking for a sealed-cover report on the authenticity of the audio tapes.

MANIPUR AND ARTICLE 356

- This is the 11th instance of President's Rule in Manipur, the highest in the country
- Longest was from October 17, 1969 to March 22, 1972
- The last time it was under President's Rule was from June 2, 2001 to March 6, 2002
- Rishang Keishing was the first CM to complete a full term
- Ibobi Singh is second CM to complete a term, not one but three (2002-17)

Govt yields with corrigendum on JPC Waqf report in the RS

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

AMID a massive showdown in both Houses of Parliament over the alleged redaction of certain portions of the dissent notes in the joint parliamentary committee report on the Waqf Amendment Bill, the government on Thursday tabled a corrigendum in the Rajya Sabha. For a short while, there were two versions of the bill in Parliament, one with redaction in the Rajya Sabha and the other in the Lok Sabha till the corrigendum made them identical.

The Opposition erupted in protest as soon as the panel report on the (Amendment) Bill was tabled in the Upper House with Leader of Opposition Mallikarjun Kharge leading the attack on the alleged deletion of dissent notes. However, Union Parliamentary Affairs Minister Kiren Rijiju vehemently refuted the charges, charging that the Opposition was indulging in the politics of appeasement.

While the first half saw heated debates between the treasury bench and the Opposition, in the post-lunch sitting, BJP MP Medha Vishram Kulkarni tabled a corrigendum in Appendix 5 of the report, prompting Opposition MPs to say they had forced the government's hand, adding that it proved the House was misled by a minister earlier.

Chapter 5 of the Appendices of the report pertains to "Notes/minutes of dissent received from the Members of the Joint Committee". It contains the notes that were redacted in the earlier tabled report.

Congress MP Syed Naseer Hussain said only 40-50% of the redacted portions of the dissent notes by the members were restored in the new version. "The basic requirement of conducting a clause-by-clause discussion has not been fulfilled. The panel redacted that demand by us. I have written to the Chairman and Speaker about these concerns and hope it will be taken up in the next leg of the ongoing session," he said.

Amit Shah stance in Lok Sabha

The new version of the JPC report with annexures was tabled in the Lok Sabha at 2 pm with home minister Amit Shah asserting the BJP has no objection to the dissent notes being included without redaction. He asked the speaker to decide as per procedure

Don announces tariffs as Modi begins US visit

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

HOURS before his crucial meeting with Prime Minister Narendra Modi, US President Donald Trump announced reciprocal tariffs on all trading partners—without any exception. However, the reciprocal tariffs won't take immediate effect, to give nations time to negotiate new trade terms with the US. The meeting between Modi and Trump is to take place in the wee hours on Friday (Indian time).

Modi, who arrived in Washington on Thursday for a two-day state visit, began the day with a series of meetings.

After arriving at Blair House, the President's Guest House, Modi met the Director of National Intelligence Tulsi Gabbard. Thereafter, he had a discussion with US National Security Adviser Michael Waltz. The meeting was also attended by External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar and NSA Ajit Doval. Terming Waltz a great friend of India, Modi said there is a strong potential for cooperation in sectors like AI, semiconductors, space and more.

Later, Modi met Tesla CEO Elon Musk and political figure Vivek Ramaswamy.

During his meeting with Trump, Modi is likely to explore a defence industrial framework, nuclear cooperation—especially small modular reactors—and stepping up critical technology collaboration. P11

Visitors at Aero India 2025 at Yelahanka Air Base on Thursday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

'Shift airshow venue; move it to December'

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

SHIFTING Aero India from its current venue of Air Force Station Yelahanka (AFSY) and moving the event to December instead of February have been highlighted in the feedback from various government agencies reviewing Aero India 2025.

Officials from disaster management under the Union ministries of Home Affairs and Earth Sciences along with those from state departments of revenue, traffic police and health, who conducted the review, mainly assessed traffic choke and block points outside and inside AFSY, the weather conditions impacting health, the parking area, the Aerial Display Viewing Area (ADVA), the locations of food courts, entry and exit points, and the locations of the chalets and the exhibition halls.

The feedback after the review pointed at Bengaluru no longer being ideal for hosting the airshow because of the uncontrolled growth of the city and its traffic volumes. "The traffic jams reported on all days of the airshow is a testimony to it. Many choke and block points have been identified inside the aerospace and outside that need attention," one official part of the review and feedback told The New Indian Express.

"We are also thinking of suggesting if the airshow can be held in December instead of February. But it's subject to visibility, which is essential for the air show," another senior government official said, requesting anonymity. P9

Namma Metro max fare hike capped at 71.2%

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

UNDER fire from commuters, political parties and its own board for effecting over a 100% fare hike, Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL) on Thursday announced that it would recalibrate its fare matrix to ensure that the maximum hike would be capped at 71.2%. By reconfiguring distance measurement under different slabs, BMRCL stated that 46% of its ridership, totalling 2,91,418, will benefit from Friday with the one-way fare set to be reduced by at least Rs 9.

The announcement was made in the afternoon after two rounds of deliberations last night and early Thursday by BMRCL chairman Srinivas Katikithala, who is also secretary, Union Ministry of Urban Affairs. He wanted Metro officials to communicate to commuters about the hike and clear all misconceptions.

Earlier in the day, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah sought an urgent review of fare hike in view of calls for rollback or reduction.

Briefing reporters, managing director M Maheshwar Rao said, "Presently, there are 4,624 fare matrices (permutations and combinations) possible between 68 Metro stations. Of them, there are issues in approximately 600 cases that have reported a surge in fare ranging between 70 and 100%. Of them, 30 tickets (onward and return) have reported a fare hike above 100% while 150 have reported a hike of 90 to 100%, and so on. Calibration is being done so that kilometres would figure in the right slab. Based on November ridership data, we estimate that 2.9 lakh out of our 8 lakh-plus ridership will benefit with a reduction of at least Rs 9 during each journey."

In a release on February 8, BMRCL announced that the maximum hike would be 50% for maximum distance. The 71.2% cap announced on Thursday is actually an increase being effected. P4

> Rao Munukutla, Executive Director and CEO of BACL

EVEN as the State government plans to have a second airport near Bengaluru, Bangalore International Airport Limited (BIAL) is eying 115 million passengers by refurbishing Terminal 1, expanding Terminal 2 and putting up the proposed Terminal 3.

Rao Munukutla, Executive Director and CEO of Bengaluru Airport City Limited (BACL), a subsidiary of BIAL, said designing of phase two of Terminal 2 of Kempegowda International Airport has started, and they hope to begin work by the year-end.

Munukutla was speaking at a session on 'India's next innovation powerhouse: Karnataka's blueprint for KWIN City' during Invest Karnataka - Global Investors' Meet on Thursday in Bengaluru. He said in 2022, T2 was completed and operations started. "At present, we have initiated a $2billion programme. We are expanding T2 and designing of 2.5 million sqm is going on. We will start construction by the end of the year."

He also said refurbishment of T1 is going on, and this, along with expansion of T2 can accommodate 80 million passengers annually. "By the end of this financial year, we will be touching around 42 million passengers. They are growing at 13 per cent Compound Annual Growth Rate. Once we start T3, an additional 35 million passengers can be added, and we will be able to reach 115 million passengers," he said.

Rao said KIA is connected to 75 domestic destinations and 30 international destinations. "Currently, our international traffic is 15 per cent. We want to increase it to 22-25 per cent, and make KIA South India's hub for international flights. It requires a lot of airline marketing. We are connected to many cities in the US -- San Francisco, Seattle, New York and others which will make Bengaluru a Gateway to South India," Munukutla added. According to him, airports are the economic gateways to cities and KIA has added 5.2 per cent of gross value to the city's development. Speaking on job opportunities, Munukutla said projects like KWIN and Airport City will help generate income for locals. He pointed out the hospitality sector around Devanahalli, and a need for an additional 7,000 hotel rooms in the region. The current hotels are insufficient to meet demand, and are in the process of constructing 4,000 new rooms.

'KWIN SHOULD FOCUS ON MEDICAL EQUIPMENT MANUFACTURE'

Renowned cardiac surgeon Dr Devi Prasad Shetty, chairman of Narayana Hrudayalaya Limited, said healthcare is the largest industry with over $14 trillion. India will be the largest buyer of medical equipment in the globe. "Most of the medical equipment are manufactured in the US, UK, Japan and other countries, and India is nowhere close to them in terms of manufacturing. The equipment is expensive and has to be cleared by a regulated authority. We have a good number of hospitals, but lag in terms of equipment manufacturing. KWIN city should focus on this," he said. If healthcare-related startups establish themselves in KWIN City, healthcare services will become more affordable and the innovative city could emerge as a training hub for doctors, nurses and paramedical staff on a large scale, sending trained professionals to every corner of the globe, he said. "India is producing quality doctors. People in the US and UK prefer to seek treatment from Indian doctors, as confirmed by Harvard University studies," Shetty said. He also drew attention to the shortage of 18 million nurses globally. Indian women working as nurses abroad send home Rs 1 - 1.5 lakh per month, to support their families.

BMRCL justifies fare hike, says costs have soared

WILL DISCUSS QR TICKET/STUDENT DISCOUNT: BMRCL MD

BMRCL MD Maheshwar Rao said the demand from commuters to retain the 5% discount on QR tickets and the recommendation by the student union to offer a 50% discount will be placed before the BMRCL Board for its suggestion. On repeated demands from the public that the minimum balance of Rs 90 made mandatory on the Metro Travel card be reduced, the official said it was necessary to avoid congestion at the station where the passenger exits, in case the card ran out of balance.

JDS TO PROTEST OUTSIDE CM OFFICE

Former MLC and JDS Bengaluru president HM Rajeev Gowda told newspersons on Thursday that nearly 1,000 members of his party would stage two major protests on Friday, demanding a full rollback of the Metro fare. "We want the previous Metro fare to be reinstated fully with no hike effected. We will gather together at Freedom Park in the morning and protest outside the CM's office in Vidhana Soudha by 12noon. We will also protest outside Malleswaram, Rajarajeshwari Nagar and Baiyappanahalli Metro stations," Gowda said. The protest will be carried out every Saturday until the fare is rolled back entirely, he added.

'METRO SAW 8-10% DIP IN RIDERSHIP AFTER HIKE'

BMRCL MD Maheshwar Rao conceded that there has been a dip in ridership ranging between 8 to 10% since Sunday (February 9) after the hike came into effect. "The same happened for a week in Delhi Metro too when a hike of 106% was announced years ago. But it will stabilise later," he said. He said the debt obligatory requirements and operational expenses led to the fare hike. A senior official said, "Our present daily earnings average Rs 2 crore. BMRCL plans to mobilise Rs 1 crore more daily if the present ridership trend continues. We averaged 8 lakh ridership in January."

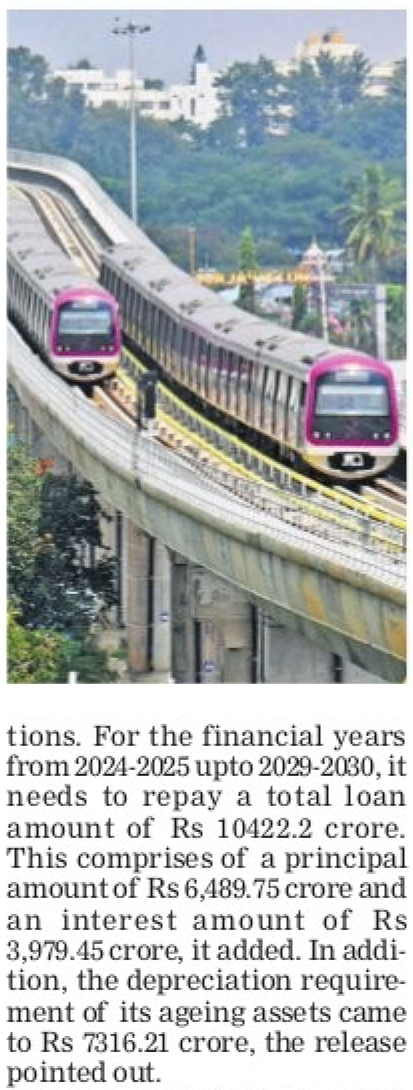
@Bengaluru

THE Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited on Thursday said that to meet its debt obligatory requirements and surge in operational expenditure due to its network expanding to 77 km from the 42 km in 2017 when the previous hike was effected, a substantial hike was vital. BMRCL had actually requested the Metro Fare Fixation Committee for a hike of 105.15% which comes to a 14.02% increase year-on-year. The hike is being implemented after 7.5 years. The Committee had finally okayed an average hike of 46% after a discount of 5% on the Travel Card.

Elaborating on the reason why it wanted a hike exceeding 100%, the release said the cost of paying salaries of staff shot up by 42% in the financial year ending March 2024 as compared to March 2017. To meet this requirement alone, an increase of 25.58% was required over the previous fare.

The Maintenance and Administration costs have shot up by 366% in March 2024, as compared to March 2017, it explained adding that electricity bills have shot up by 34%.



BMRCL has huge debt obligations. For the financial years from 2024-2025 upto 2029-2030, it needs to repay a total loan amount of Rs 10422.2 crore. This comprises of a principal amount of Rs 6,489.75 crore and an interest amount of Rs 3,979.45 crore, it added. In addition, the depreciation requirement of its ageing assets came to Rs 7316.21 crore, the release pointed out.

Officials repeatedly stressed that the hike in fare was vital to keep the Metro network operational.

I have directed BMRCL MD to reduce fare: CM

ENS @Bengaluru

AMID public criticism and opposition backlash over the recent Metro hike, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah urged Managing Director of Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL), M Maheshwar Rao, to address the issue and reduce fares.

Expressing his displeasure, the CM pointed out anomalies in fare revision, with fares more than doubling in certain segments. "I have directed the MD of BMRCL to urgently address these issues and reduce fares where the hike is abnormal."

Earlier in the day, DCM and Bengaluru Development Minister DK Shivakumar told reporters that the state government had asked BMRCL to reduce the price. However, the final decisions rests with the Metro Fare Fixation Committee. "The Union government's Secretary heads the Metro Committee, which decides ticket fares. We have conveyed our message to the officials here,'' he added.

Massive traffic on the fourth day of Aero India 2025 on Ballari Road leading to Kempegowda International Airport. Several people who had purchased tickets to watch the air show missed the event | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

Aero India triggers jam, irks motorists

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE fourth day of Aero India 2025 brought Bengaluru to a standstill, with a massive traffic jam on Ballari Road leading to Kempegowda International Airport, stranding thousands of vehicles for more than four kilometres. City traffic police issued advisories early in the day, urging motorists to avoid the stretch and use alternative routes due to bumper-to-bumper traffic. Despite these efforts, both the main and service roads witnessed gridlock, leaving many commuters stuck for more than three hours.

Several people who had purchased tickets to watch the air show missed the event after being caught in traffic and expressed their frustration on X. Some demanded ticket refunds, questioning the poor traffic management. Even free BMTC bus services from hotspots like failed to ease the congestion.

The traffic advisory warned airport-bound passengers to avoid National Highway 44 (Bengaluru-Ballari Road) and use alternative routes via Hebbal, Hennur, Bagalur and the south gate of the Airport. However, traffic moved at a snail's pace, with some travellers taking nearly an hour to cover just one kilometre. One X user vented his frustration saying he could not make it in time to see his father-in-law for one last time due to the traffic jam. The airport also issued a passenger advisory, urging travellers to plan ahead and consider alternate routes.

Another person from JP Nagar, who was excited to watch the show, could not reach the venue on time and tried to catch a glimpse from a nearby skywalk.

Registration, test dates for SAT 2025 released

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE College Board announced registration deadlines for the Scholastic Assessment Test (SAT) for spring 2025 and exam dates for fall 2025 and spring 2026. Registration is now open globally, providing students ample time to prepare for the upcoming exams. The SAT test is widely used for college admissions in the United States.

In addition to the exam dates, the College Board is working to enhance accessibility for SAT test takers in the 2025-26 cycle by offering free official practice resources. These resources include personalised SAT practice modules available through Khan Academy, as well as six full-length mock exams accessible through the Bluebook Testing App.

To ensure all students can participate, the Board is also offering the Device Lending Initiative, which allows students without personal devices to still take the SAT. More details about the programme can be found on the SAT Device Lending page.

DATES TO NOTE

Test dates	8 March	3 May	7 June
Registration deadline	21 Feb	18 April	22 May
Deadline for changes, cancellation	25 Feb	22 April	27 May

Trans communities to celebrate love on Valentine's Day

Bengaluru: To challenge fundamentalist opposition to Valentine's Day (February 14) and promote love, harmony, and inclusivity, sexual minorities and activists will host a three-day event titled 'Bangalore Love Festival-2025'. The festival organised by Ondede NGO and other democratic voices, aims to counter hate with art, dialogue, and performances. Activist Akkai Padmashali from Ondede NGO described the festival as a response to rising intolerance. "In times when social harmony is increasingly under threat and hate manifests in various forms, we have chosen to exhibit 'love' through arts," he said. The three-day event will bring together music, literature, panel discussion, conversations and performances. The first edition of Bengaluru Love Festival-2025 will stage a theatre play titled 'Bikkattu', which is centred around histories, desires and politics of queer and trans communities.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

14th February: Today I am looking at Aquarius, a sign which is associated with endless possibilities. The reason is that the sign is often pictured pouring water out of a large vessel, representing the spreading of different ways of thinking and doing things. What's often needed in addition is a sharp focus and set of goals.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
You really must steel yourself for another round of emotional ear-bashing within several days. For you, the personal compensation is provided by the Moon's assertive presence, which strengthens your resolve and should mean that if others shout, you can shout louder.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
One region of your chart, ruling travel and communication, is looking extremely lively, but the livelier it becomes, the greater will be your need to exercise due caution and double-check your progress at every turn. There's no requirement to rush it, so you may take your time.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
Employers, or people in positions of power, are likely to show themselves in a different light at the moment, being that much more emotional than usual. However, it is bank managers, and anyone else responsible for your money, who you really need to keep and eye on!

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
Watch out! Mars is now adopting a new and aggressive position, stirring up feelings you'd probably rather forget. Remember the old rule of war: only fight battles you know you can win. That said, if conflict is not to your taste, it's time to hone your diplomatic skills.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
There is a right way to manage your affairs - and a wrong way. The golden rule now must be to avoid all forms of intrigue and pay no attention to rumours of any sort. Concentrate on pursuing your own affairs with as much honesty and integrity as you can muster.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
A sensational relationship between Venus and Mars is about to do you a power of good, but only if your behaviour is impeccable. If you insist on maintaining a rigid and outdated set of values, these same planets will seriously undermine you. It's all a question of leading a balanced life and of being human.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Venus continues to emphasise the practical side of relationships. You may have to make a tactical retreat at work, but this should be balanced by a serious advance at home. It's all a question of weighing up the odds in different situations and, in this, you are a master.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
The moment has come to speak out and make others see that whatever misunderstandings took place can now be put right. The past is the past, and that is that. Very soon you will personally be in a position to right old wrongs. You need justice – now!

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Turn your attention to your financial affairs, and take no risks. Resist all pressure and turn down all blandishments, no matter how seductive. And don't trust anybody. It's not that they are necessarily dishonest, just liable to get the facts wrong.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It's make or break time in at least one close tie or association. The question is whether this particular relationship can be made to work, or if it should be put on hold, perhaps indefinitely. It may be a difficult choice, but it will probably have to be taken sooner or later.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You have waited too long for your personal rewards to allow other people to steal your thunder, or exploit your feelings. However, the worst thing you could do at the moment is act on the assumption of suspicions which have only a tenuous basis in reality.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Events that take place over the coming few days could have a powerful bearing upon your social aspirations and romantic life. You should try to be as independent as possible without cutting yourself off from close partners. It's a delicate balancing act but I'm sure you'll manage.

Indian Navy shows off its air power at Aero India

Plans to induct more technologically-advanced aircraft In future

Look...! A plane...!

The static display at Aero India 2025 has more surprises for the military and aviation enthusiasts alike. The massive presence of Airbus A330 MRTT, the aerial refuelling and military transport aircraft based on the civilian A330; Airbus A400M Atlas, the four-engine turboprop military transporter; Embraer C-390 Millennium, the medium-size, twin-engine, jet-powered military transporter; and Lockheed Martin C-130J Super Hercules tactical transport aircraft dominate the tarmac from a distance. And then, there is the more recently-inducted C-295 MW medium-lift transporter, EMB-145 (AEW&C), Mi-17 V5 helicopter gunship, and Jaguar ground attack jet, with Darin-III avionics, all depicting the scale of IAF's air power. Russia's Sukhoi Su-57 sharing space with the US' Lockheed Martin F-35 Lightning II, along with a couple of F-16s, is another highlight. In the sky, catching the chance flyby of a Boeing KC-135 Stratotanker and Rockwell B-1 Lancer adds to the excitement.

WHILE Aero India 2025 is hosting a range of aircraft from different countries, and the Indian Air Force is bedazzling spectators on the ground at Yelahanka Air Force Station, with breathtaking aerial displays, the Naval Air Arm is offering a rare peek into its air power that supports the Indian Navy in protecting the country's vast coastline and beyond.

The Naval Air Arm is the aviation branch and a combat arm of the Indian Navy, tasked with providing aircraft carrier-based strike capability, fleet air defence, maritime reconnaissance, and anti-submarine warfare. The blue-water Indian Navy operates significantly in the Persian Gulf Region, the Horn of Africa, the Strait of Malacca, and routinely conducts anti-piracy operations and partners with other navies, along with joint exercises, ably supported by its fleet of fixed-wing aircraft and helicopters.

Accordingly, at Aero India, the Navy has put on static display, a considerable chunk of its aircraft. The Kamov KM-31, a Russian-origin all-weather, day-night, deck operation-capable helicopter, is known for its contra rotating-blades with no tail rotor. Its primary role involves air early warning, and fleet air defence of the Navy's fleet at sea. Another all-weather helicopter, with multi-role functions, including anti-surface and anti-submarine warfare, search and rescue, is the Sea King 42B, sharing space with the newer US-origin MH-60 R Seahawk, a helicopter carrying out a variety of operations at sea. It is equipped with "... multi-spectral targeting system, multi-mode radar, integrated self-defence (chaff and flares)... for air superiority, fleet air defence, anti-ship strike, and land attack", a factsheet read. For these purposes, the Seahawk can be armed with Mk 54 torpedoes, hellfire missiles, Advanced Precision Kill Weapon System (APKWS), cabin-mounted gun, and depth charges.

Representing the Navy's fixed-wing inventory, is its workhorse -- the carrier-borne interceptor, MiG-29K – operating from both INS Vikrant and INS Vikramaditya. Unlike its sibling MiG-29, the MiG-29K is specially adapted for carrier-based missions, and is composed of folding wings, an arrestor hook, and catapult attachments. The Navy has also displayed the Light Combat Aircraft (Navy) in the exhibition area. "The aircraft is designed by ADA and manufactured by HAL. Successful landing of the LCA (Navy) onboard INS Vikrant has propelled India into the league of a few nations with the capability of designing, developing, testing and manufacturing a deck-borne fighter aircraft," a statement said.

"The idea behind the static display is to showcase the Indian Navy's air combat capabilities and strengths," a Naval ground staffer deployed at Aero India told TNIE.

Today, the Naval Air Arm is composed of around 300 aircraft, which also include helicopters HAL Dhruv, Kamov Ka-27, and HAL Chetak; maritime patrol aircraft Boeing P-8I and Dornier 228; trainers and UAVs. In future, the Navy plans to induct technologically-advanced aircraft platforms, in a bid to operate an Atmanirbhar fleet. "Enhancing operational capabilities of Naval aviation through modernisation of platforms, acquisition of advanced aircraft, and incorporation of cutting-edge technology, including unmanned systems through indigenous means, is the focus area for the next two decades," said a report from the Indian Navy. In that context, the future would see more deck-based fighters, maritime-reconnaissance aircraft, carrier-borne airborne early warning and control (AEW&C) aircraft, air-to-air refuellers (AAR), helicopters, and even amphibious aircraft protecting our seas.

IAF has spl team that watches birds, issues alerts

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

Eyes on the sky, the tarmac, and the screens, as the ATC tower gets busy guiding metal birds on the ground and in the air, at Yelahanka Air Force Station | BOSKY KHANNA

THEY are the birdwatchers. A special team of 17 men, the Bird Watcher Men, from the Indian Air Force, scan the skies all day long, through the five-day Aero India, to ensure there are no untoward incidents mid-air during the aerial display.

They belong to the behind-the-scenes team, busy on walkie-talkies, standing at strategic locations at the Yelahanka Air Base and Air Traffic Control of Yelahanka Air Force Station. They are constantly scanning the skies, coordinating with and relaying information to the ATC team on the location of birds and other threats, if any. They play a crucial role in ATC giving clearance to aircraft to take off, manoeuvre and land safely.

An Air Force officer handling Yelahanka ATC told TNIE: "The bird menace has increased this season because of increasing garbage pile-up. It is the mindset of people that needs to change. People take garbage management very lightly. We don't kill the birds, but scare them, they are dangerous for pilots and aircraft."

The ATC is the pivot of the Air Force -- it not just controls air traffic, but plays a crucial role in providing alerts. For Aero India 2025, the ATC team is handling around 70 aircraft at its base that include the ones on static display and those flying sorties. The ATC also handles 40-50 flights used for services, including carrying military equipment, cargo and customer flights.

Explaining how ATC functions, the officer said: "We work round the clock, in shifts, to ensure flight operations and manoeuvres go off smoothly. During the five days of the air show, our work starts at 5am, the crew takes note of the day's activities, new arrivals and take-offs. The plan looks simple but is not, as many changes keep happening, including late arrivals and cancellations."

Apart from ensuring proper coordination with Kempegowda International Airport and HAL Airport, the ATC team also has to constantly keep an eye on the runway and manoeuvring area to ensure they are free of any foreign objects, it is here that the bird watcher men play a crucial role. A separate frequency is assigned for aircraft flying for the air show is maintained, and the pilots are communicated with for issuing alerts and for pilots to seek permission before take-off and landing.

Recollecting a hectic moment at this air show, the officer said: "On February 10, in a duration of just 10 minutes, we handled 52 aircraft flying in our space. We had to keep a close watch on each of them and ensure all of them were well-engaged with to ensure no untoward incidents."

Spectacular air show a big draw as always, ends today

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

HUNDREDS of people witnessed the metal birds perform gravity-defying manoeuvres at Aero India 2025 over Yelahanka Air Force Station on Thursday. Young and old, people of all age-groups were awe-struck by the aerobatic displays.

Skanda, who is learning 3D animation in Mysuru, came with three of his friends to the air show. He said he was waiting for the show for a long time and that he was completely impressed by the aircraft's aerial displays. There were many youngsters who were so thrilled by the exciting display of flying skills by the pilots that they said they have made up their mind to join the Air Force.

A 75-year-old farmer from Mandya, Nanjappa, said it was his second air show and that he thoroughly enjoyed the thrilling aerobatic displays.

Aviation enthusiasts were seen finding the names of aircraft just by looking at them and were seen explaining the unique features of each of the metal birds, right from their top speed, capabilities, and other features. They were waving and cheering at the pilots.

They were also seen clicking pictures and taking selfies at the static display area, besides visiting the exhibition halls and checking out the simulation models.

The Surya Kiran Aerobatic Team stole the show with their iconic heart formation, Tricolour trail, and other stunts. Visitors from the ADVA (Air Display Viewing Area), however, were complaining about the alleged lack of dustbins in the area, leading to littering.

Those who could not enter the Air Force station chose to catch the show standing around the Ballari Road outside. The biennial air show will end on Friday.

Water bottle, ice cream, cap vendors make a killing

As the temperature soared, apart from the bumper-to-bumper traffic congestion, people thronged makeshift shops around the Yelahanka Air Force Station for water bottles, cold beverages, ice creams, and chats. To protect themselves from the harsh Sun, visitors were seen buying caps, hats, and sunglasses from local hawkers.

MINOR FIRE AT AERO INDIA, CONTAINED IN NO TIME

BENGALURU: A minor fire was reported at Aero India 2025 at Yelahanka Air Force Station on Thursday. The fire was seen around 11 am in Hall E at the venue. "The flying display was under way and the majority of the crowd was busy witnessing the thrilling stunts, when all of a sudden, we heard sirens from the fire tenders stationed at different places of the venue rushing towards Hall E, where we were standing and enjoying the show," said an eyewitness. Fire personnel reached the spot within minutes and immediately doused the fire, containing the situation before much damage could be done. It is suspected that the fire was caused by a short circuit. Security posted at Hall E stopped visitors from entering the arena for a brief period, and once they ensured that everything was under control, they allowed visitors back in. While the visitors enjoyed the air show and clapped for the stunts, they also applauded the fire personnel and Armed Forces for their swift action. - Aknisree Karthik

Drones at next level: Carrying people, cutting congestion

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

THE use of drone technology is advancing at a rapid pace. Their role has expanded from survey and surveillance to transporting emergency medical equipment and helping the defence sector. Now, it has moved a step ahead: Companies manufacturing drones and light utility aircraft are looking at transporting people to reduce urban congestion.

"We are looking at developing a drone that can shift people during medical emergencies and for evacuation during disasters, it is in testing phase. It can be stretched and used in case of urban congestion," Lakhsay Dang, CTO, Sagar Defence Engineering Private Limited (SDE), told The New Indian Express. The Pune-based firm was one of the startups showcasing their expertise and innovation at Aero India 2025.

"The drone we are working on is the upgraded version of the existing Varuna HA (High Altitude). It was conceptualised and made in 2022 for the Indian Navy to transport equipment weighing up to 150kg. We are working on creating a new model that will fly at high altitudes and carry up to 200kg," he said.

SDE had participated in the ADITI – Acing Development of Innovative Technologies with iDEX (Innovations for Defence Excellence) – challenge organised by the department of Defence Production. They were given a challenge project by the defence sector last year to develop drone technology.

Another innovative aerial transport project addressing traffic congestion and easing connectivity is the EVTOL (Electric Vertical Take Off and Landing) EV aircraft, developed by Hyderabad-based firm BluJ Aerospace Private Limited.

"A first of its kind, this EV aircraft is different from the others as it uses hydrogen energy and not lithium batteries. We are looking at easing commuting to other cities, which the government is presently working on under the Udaan scheme," said Pranay Rebala, Vice-President - Product, BluJ Aero.

He explained that under Udaan, there is a need to set up airports in tier-2 and and tier-3 cities, but with these it is not. A second version with increased travel range from 300km to 800km is being worked on which will be able to carry up to one tonne of weight. It will be light in weight and size, giving it the advantage of take-off and landing anywhere. They are also faster than helicopters.

BJP MP Tejasvi Surya raises the victory sign from the wing of an HTT-40 aircraft | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

Tejasvi Surya flies in HTT-40, hails HAL's contributions

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

BANGALORE South MP Tejasvi Surya took a sortie in an HTT-40 trainer aircraft at Aero India 2025 at Yelahanka Air Force Station on Thursday morning. The young BJP MP was set for flying at around 8 am and flew in the aircraft for about 30 minutes.

After finishing his sortie, he spoke to the media and said that Hindustan Aeronautics Limited (HAL) is the pride of the nation and Bengaluru. He alleged that the UPA government in 2012, had placed an order from a Swiss company and purchased Pilatus aircraft. He went on to say that Indian companies like HAL were not given prominence, and after Prime Minister Narendra Modi came to power in 2014, HAL was given the necessary encouragement.

"In a record 40 months, HAL and our own engineers produced the HTT-40, which is a state-of-the-art basic trainer, produced completely in India," Surya said, adding that the HTT aircraft are second to none in the world.

A fuel tanker refuels aircraft of the Surya Kiran Aerobatic Team | BOSKY KHANNA

WHILE pilots perform daredevil stunts in their lean mean machines capturing the attention of the audience during Aero India, little is known of men who work behind the scenes supporting these pilots.

These are the men who ensure that the aircraft are not low on fuel. "We cannot afford to rest. We have to be present not just when a call is made, but also immediately after an aircraft lands. Be it choppers, Hawks or trainer jets, nothing can ever be low on fuel," said a fuel operator, working with the Indian Air Force.

The backend of the main runway is busy as these fuel tablet teams continuously make rounds to the runway and hangars to refuel the craft and coordinate with pilots and the ground team.

"We carry jet fuel, similar to what is used in the civil airlines, only from stipulated stations, to each of the aircraft soon after it lands. We check the fuel levels and refill them," said a busy tanker operator.

The personnel are trained to work with the IAF. The mobile fuel teams work round the clock with the defence forces and the technical teams of each aircraft to check each time they land. They also have to closely follow the flying schedules.

An officer from the IAF explained, "Each aircraft has different capacity. While for war and other operations, they carry optimum fuel, for air display and manoeuvres in air shows, they need not be filled to the optimum. However the biggest guzzlers are the Russian planes and Sukhois, needing around 9,000 litres of fuel. It is not just because of their big tank capacity, but because of the number of manoeuvres they do and the power they need. The Hawk-MK-132 that the Surya Kiran team flies has a total fuel capacity of 15,000 litres, but for each display consumes around 600 litres."

This is not the only team that works behind the scenes. There is also the Ground Handling Team, a wing of the IAF that comprises technicians, engineers and experts who jump into action soon after an aircraft comes back to designated hangars and bays.

"They work behind the scenes to maintain the craft, the hangars, the runways, and the air base. Their job is never-ending. They have to ensure the runway is clean and clear, and the engines and hangars are well-maintained. The team comprises around a hundred personnel and special teams are trained to handle each aircraft. During the first year of their induction, they undergo theory training and then it is on-the-job training," the IAF officer explained.

"Aircraft coming from other countries like Russia carry their own maintenance team. But they have to coordinate with our ground handling team for upkeep and requirements. These are the men behind the action in the sky," the officer stated.

KARNATAKA'S goal is to generate 40 GW of green energy in the next 10 years and Australia is going to play a major role in achieving it, said KP Rudrappaiah, Managing Director, Karnataka Renewable Energy Development Limited (KREDL).

He was speaking at a panel discussion on 'Australia-India Bilateral Opportunities For Global Market Needs in the Clean Energy and Green Economy Sectors' at the Global Investors' Meet on Thursday. "The entire world is moving towards net zero by 2070, and we are aligned with the Paris agreement. Karnataka comes at number 3 in India with 22 GW installed capacity of renewable energy. When we visited the University of New South Wales in Australia, we realised that the solar panels produced in China are invented in Australia. We signed an MoU with the Smart Energy Council in Australia to help us," he said, adding that the goal in the next 10 years is to generate 40 GW of green energy. "To meet Karnataka's demand, Australia is going to play a major role, especially in battery storage."

Energy Minister KJ George said, "With the state producing 18,000 MW per day, the rise in demand for energy is a good sign. However, we need technology from Australia, especially in solar and battery storage." The minister highlighted the importance of pump storage. "Currently we are producing 1,000 MW through technology, but with this, we can produce 3,000 MW of energy." He pointed out that the demand was low in the last 4 years due to Covid-19. "In the next one year, Karnataka will become number one in India for solar energy in terms of battery storage and electricity."

Denise Eaton, Australian Trade and Investment Commissioner for Austrade in South Asia, said, "In 2024, the largest renewable energy delegation from Australia visited India. More than 50 companies have come to explore relationships and understand the environment."

Malini Dutt, NSW Trade and Investment Commissioner-India, Investment NSW, emphasised that New South Wales is in the forefront of renewable innovations. "A lot of companies from New South Wales have explored their opportunities here. Sicona battery technologies is already active in this market, working with an Indian partner. There is also a separate department at NSW University called SMART, which is in talks to set-up a microfactory in recycling at the JSW plant," she said.

ACTIVISTS OPPOSING ISRAEL'S PARTICIPATION DETAINED

Members of several human rights and student organisations, who were set to stage a protest objecting to the participation of an Israeli delegation in Invest Karnataka 2025, were taken into preventive custody on Thursday. As many as 11 activists were taken to Sadashivanagar police station at 12.30 pm and released around 5.30 pm. Representatives of People's Union for Civil Liberties, All India Students Association, All India Central Council Trade Unions, Naaveddu Nilladidre (a women's rights group), Fridays for Future - Karnataka and Student for People's Democracy were about to address the public about Israel's attack on Gaza when they were detained. Condemning the police action, the organisations demanded that the state government must respect the right to freedom of expression, association and assembly and allow expression of legitimate dissent against the government policies.

Take a leaf out of Israel's book: Experts

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

EXPERTS have called upon India and Karnataka to take a leaf out of Israel's book and use technology in water management and agriculture.

"Indians might be successful in rocket science, but they have failed in certain small aspects, such as in areas of water management," said Abner Chin, chief agronomist at Greentech Hub Limited. Chin was originally from Maharashtra and had shifted to Israel some decades ago.

He was speaking at the plenary session on 'Sky to Soil: How Indian-Israeli Cooperation in Drones, Agri-Tech and Clean Energy Is Driving Sustainable Innovation' at Invest Karnataka 2025, Global Investors Meet (GIM) on Thursday.

He observed that small farmers in India are distancing from farming because it now needs more technology, which is not cost-effective. The government should help them come back on track with the offer of technology.

"We in Israel believe in small things. Every kitchen in a house has a biomass gas production facility," he pointed out. He elaborated on the grooming of the next generation of farmers in Israel by imparting the skills to schoolchildren.

Orli Weitzman, consul general, said Israel being the leader in cybercrime technology can have collaboration with India and also Karnataka. The collaborations can also be possible in the exchange of drone technology, energy, agriculture and water technology. "Our representatives from Israel have arrived at GIM to connect well with Karnataka," she pointed out.

Sindhu Cherian, director, Ayala Water & Ecology, spoke on the use of technology in domestic waste and industrial wastewater treatment.

KEYBOARD TO TRANSCRIPT IN 10 LANGUAGES GRABS EYEBALLS

Bengaluru: While one can learn a new language, typing in a regional Indian language has always been a challenge, with translations only offering partial help. To address this, Kanaada Phonematic has developed a 10-inch keyboard, showcased at the GIM, that allows users to get transcripts in 10 Indian languages, simply by inputting text in one language. Officials from the company told TNIE that the aim is to encourage the use of Indian languages and make it easier for people to type directly in their native languages, without having to type in English and then translate. The keyboard is easy to use — just plug it in, and it can be connected to any device, including phones. The keyboard is priced at Rs 2,000 and supports 10 languages, including Kannada, Tamil, Telugu, Malayalam, Punjabi and Bengali. Currently, all departments, including the ones under the Karnataka government, use software where inputs are typed in English instead of Kannada letters. However, with this new tool, users can type in their preferred language and get a transcription in the desired language. ENS

Somanath: Setting up space parks next step forward

ABHIJEET KABAD @Bengaluru

ISRO former chairman S Somanath speaks during a panel discussion

THOUGH Bengaluru has the highest PhD holders and a high research ecosystem, it is yet to see the development of a satellite, pointed out S Somanath, former chairman of the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO). "Integration is lacking. Maybe a liquid engine or a software package of high calibre is lacking. A solution that will rewrite the software industry is not visible yet. I hope such a company comes up here that will be able to integrate and provide a full bright solution," he said.

"Space data is very important. The data that we have been collecting is extremely huge. The entire groundwater perspective of this country is possible. The information on arid regions, water bodies and forests has a lot of value. The data is more democratic and available. The data is generated by the government, but the monetisation is done by the public. There is a huge potential to convert this data into various possibilities," said Somnath. He gave the example that ocean data can be collected and provided to fishermen to help them for a better catch.

Speaking in a panel discussion on 'Future of Commercial Space' at GIM on Thursday, Somanath specified the next steps for the space sector. "The first is the Rs 1,000-crore VC fund. The purpose of the fund is not to fund any company, but to give confidence to investors that the company is seen by space professionals. It is not yet operational, but it will happen. Also, funds for startups have been implemented to scale up technologies. A grant of up to Rs 25 crore can be given to space startups."

Next is the establishment of space parks across states. Facilities for startups can be established where they find investments for testing and validation. These will be under the state governments' control, and run on a commercial basis, he added.

Jacob Gullish, Executive Director, Digital Economy Media, Entertainment, and Satcom, US-India Business Council, US Chamber of Commerce, talked about the perception of India in the international market. "India is on a tremendous journey. From leadership to tapping the commercial capabilities, and changes in the policy, it has a big potential. Whether it is making semiconductors or software and space applications, Indian technology is the lead. ISRO has tremendous technology and the private sector has several ideas that can be leveraged."

Speaking to TNIE, Jacob said, "I know of a member who said if you take the population of South Africa and compare it with India, India can produce 33 Elon Musks. The USA makes it easy to try out innovations with regulations. India is down that pathway. The Space Bill, which I haven't seen yet, might be incremental or generate a competitive SATCOM market. If you see Europe or the USA, there are 4-5 competitive satellite companies. That drives the innovation. In India, the market is commercial, and the Bill might open the market."

Husain Suterwala, Senior Policy Advisor, Office of the Secretary of Defence Space Policy Partnerships, amplified the scope for the space sector, pointing out that there is great talent in the country. "Many companies are coming up for space analysis."

AUSTRALIAN diplomats and experts said Australia will be a natural partner to boost India's ambition to become the world's skilling capital and Karnataka will have a huge role to play.

Speaking at a discussion on 'Australia and Karnataka: Where Are We Now And What Are The Opportunities?' at the Invest Karnataka 2025 Global Investors Meet (GIM), Australian trade and investment commissioner for South Asia, Vik Singh, elaborated on the opportunities both India and Australia can tap into with a thrust on Karnataka.

Bengaluru is unique with a lot of vibrancy, with more and more students choosing Australia as their preferred 'premium' destination and the country will continue to do a lot more with festivals showcasing the best.

"India went through phenomenal change, with the NEP target to achieve 50 percent of Gross Enrolment Ratio (GER) and it needs 14 new universities to be established per week to meet that demand and the transnational educational partnerships play a key role," he said.

"We continue to invest in Bengaluru because of its vibrant ecosystem and Karnataka will be my home for the next three years to establish people-to-people links," he said.

He mentioned the Australia-India skilling programme, funded by the Australian government, stating that Tamil Nadu benefitted from the quantum training. "We are having multiple conversations with Karnataka, finding opportunities in GCCs and the India and Australia collaboration is for the world," he remarked.

Irfan Malik, president and national associate chair, AIBC, underscored the trade agreement put in place in 2022 and said what Australia needs, India has got and vice versa in terms of trade and industry. Australia got the critical minerals that were needed for India's semiconductor manufacturing industry, he pointed out.

"A lot of things are happening in defence, space tech, skilling, and education and Karnataka has a lot to offer. We are visiting ITIs and GTDCs," he said.

In her opening remarks, Hilary McGeachy, Australian Consul General, Bengaluru, stressed strengthening the business ties with great collaboration between the two countries.

BYV to continue? BJP top brass likely to resolve crisis next week

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

THE internal turmoil within the Karnataka BJP is expected to be resolved this week, according to an informed party source. The resolution is likely by February 20, and BY Vijayendra is expected to continue as state president, in spite of criticism from party leaders.

At the centre of the crisis is MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal, whose relentless attack on the party leadership has created unrest. However, a recent show-cause notice issued to him appears to have curtailed his outbursts, though Yatnal has refused to respond to it.

Party insiders question whether Yatnal has the leadership mettle to steer the BJP to victory in the coming elections. "If he were made party president, can he secure the kind of electoral success that Vijayendra delivered in the recent parliamentary polls?" a senior leader asked. Vijayendra was instrumental in clinching 18+2 seats for the BJP.

Meanwhile, another contender, Union minister V Somanna faces skepticism due to his age and wavering loyalty. At 72, Somanna's ability to counter the influence of veteran leader BS Yediyurappa remains uncertain. His past flirtations with the Congress for political security raise doubts about his reliability as a steadfast BJP leader. Former CM Basavaraj Bommai has opted out of the leadership race due to health concerns, narrowing the choice further, as any replacement for a Lingayat leader would have to be another Lingayat. This criterion would rule out Sunil Kumar from Karkala, a young coastal leader, who prefers to focus on local politics rather than a state-level role.

Another factor in the party's calculations is B Sriramulu, a formidable ST leader. Ensuring his continued allegiance to the BJP is vital for party unity and broader electoral strategy. Equally significant is the role of former CM HD Kumaraswamy, now a key ally in Old Mysore region. Historically a weak area for the BJP, this region presents an opportunity with the senior Vokkaliga leader on their side.

"The party must capitalize on HDK's influence in Mandya and Old Mysore strongholds," a senior BJP source emphasized.

PIL against appointment of MLAs, MLCs to boards and corporations

Bengaluru: A public interest litigation was filed before the Karnataka High Court, seeking to quash the appointment of 42 MLAs and MLCs to various boards and corporations, as legal advisers, political secretaries to the chief minister and Special Representatives in Delhi with cabinet rank and associated pecuniary benefits, between June 1, 2023, and January 26, 2024. Contending that the appointments constitute office of profit and violate Article 164(1A) of the Constitution, which restricts the size of the Council of Ministers to prevent unwarranted expansion and maintain legislative integrity, the petitioner stated that he approached the high court as there was no response from the Assembly Speaker and Legislative Council chairman. The petitioner, Suri Payala, is an engineer-in-chief level officer with the Karnataka State Pollution Control Board. Stating that these appointments come with cabinet rank benefits such as high salary, new car, driver, fuel, house rent allowance and medical reimbursement, the petitioner alleged that this meets the criteria in the Supreme Court judgment in Guru Gobind Basu versus Sankari Prasad Ghosal and others, which confirmed these are indeed offices of profit. Based on this judgment, the Karnataka government retains the right to remove appointees, pay remuneration from the government exchequer, and exercise control over functionaries, he said. The petitioner prayed before court to issue a writ against 42 respondent MLAs and MLCs for the blatant violation of statutory provisions. The division bench of Chief Justice NV Anjaria and Justice MI Arun adjourned the hearing to February 21. ENS

Ministers confident Siddu will complete term

Bengaluru: Two senior ministers on Thursday exuded confidence that Siddaramaiah will continue as chief minister for the full five-year tenure. "The CM post is not vacant. The CM will complete his full tenure. We will face elections under his leadership and again come back to power," Industries Minister MB Patil told reporters. To a question, Patil said, "I do not want to create any confusion. In our party, the high command's decision is final. The high command made Siddaramaiah the CM." Earlier in the day, Home Minister G Parameshwara said when they elected Siddaramaiah as the CLP leader in 2023, they were not told that they were electing him for two-and-a-half years. "We were electing him for five years. If he completes five years, it will be a record." ENS

2 held for killing man mistaking him for thief

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ BENGALURU

TWO persons were arrested for allegedly murdering a 34-year-old puncture shop owner, mistaking him for a thief, in HSR Layout police limits.

The incident happened on Sunday night. Puncture shop owner Syed Noorullah of Madina Nagar in Bommanahalli succumbed to injuries in hospital on Tuesday. The accused have been identified as N Prakash, 32, and M Kumar Gowda, 35.

Syed and Manikanta, helper at the puncture shop, went to have tea near a two-wheeler showroom on Hosur Road around 11.30 pm. When they did not get tea there, they went to another shop in the locality.

On the way, Syed saw some tyres on a vacant site and tried to take them to his shop. Meanwhile, the accused, who were sitting near the site, suspected Syed and Manikanta to be thieves and started questioning them. When they tried to escape, the accused chased them. The duo assaulted Syed and Manikanta with an iron rod and fled the spot.

"Syed, who suffered severe injuries, fell unconscious. Manikanta alerted Syed's friends, who admitted him to NIMHANS. He was then shifted to Victoria Hospital, where he succumbed to injuries on Tuesday. Based on a complaint, the accused were arrested on Wednesday," police said.

Thrown off Yeshwantpur-Bidar Express after fight for space with two

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ BENGALURU

THE city's railway sub-division police arrested two persons for pushing a passenger to death from the Yeshwantpur-Bidar Express on Tuesday night. The unidentified person, aged around 30, died on the spot after falling from the moving train.

The accused are S Devappa, 45, a gardener, and H Peerappa, 31, a painter. Both the accused are from Sedam in Kalaburagi district.

The two accused boarded the train at Yeshwantpur that departed at 7.15 pm on Tuesday. They were going to their hometown.

The victim, travelling in the general coach, did not find a space and tried to sit on the passage next to the toilet where both the accused were sitting. The two refused to give space to the victim and engaged in a verbal altercation with him. During the heated argument, between Yelahanka and Gauribidanur stations, the two pushed him from the speeding train. An eyewitness immediately called the police control room and reported the incident.

Railway Police rushed to the spot on Tuesday night, but were unable to trace the body as the exact location was unknown and it was dark. The body was found on Wednesday morning and kept at Victoria Hospital mortuary.

Following complaint from a 28-year-old eyewitness from Channarayapatana in Hassan, the Bengaluru Rural Railway police registered a case of murder under section 103 of the BNS. Further investigations are on.

MATERNAL MORTALITY

Blood storage units to get essential equipment

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ BENGALURU

THE state government has approved a proposal to purchase essential equipment for blood storage units in all taluks of Karnataka to combat maternal mortality.

The move aims at improving the availability of Cryoprecipitate and Fresh Frozen Plasma, which help in preventing obstetric haemorrhage, one of the leading causes of maternal deaths. Such equipment will be first installed in 50 hospitals, where blood storage units are unavailable, particularly in first referral units across North Karnataka. The government has issued a directive to the department concerned to follow the Karnataka Transparency in Public Procurement rules while procuring those essential equipment for blood storage units.

To improve blood storage and transfusion services, the government has sanctioned funds from Karnataka State Medical Supplies Corporation Ltd (KSMSCL) to purchase 147 deep freezers (- 40°C) at Rs 4.5 lakh per unit and 147 plasma thawing baths (including cryobaths) at Rs 2.2 lakh per unit.

In 2023, Karnataka recorded 518 maternal deaths, with 20% linked to obstetric hemorrhage. Despite efforts under the national health campaign to reduce maternal deaths, many women, especially those from North Karnataka, face life-threatening situations due to anemia and lack of timely blood transfusion.

YSRCP leader held for attack on TDP office

Former Gannavaram MLA Vallabhaneni Vamsi held by police from his residence in Hyderabad

PHANINDRA PAPASANI
@ Vijayawada

VIJAYAWADA City Police arrested YSRCP leader and former Gannavaram MLA Vallabhaneni Vamsi Mohan from his residence in Hyderabad on Thursday. The politician was arrested in connection with the 2023 case concerning the attack on the TDP office in Gannavaram.

Vamsi has been charged under various sections of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS) and the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes (Prevention of Atrocities) Act for abducting and threatening one of the witnesses and the complainant in the TDP office attack case.

Early on Thursday, a team led by Additional Deputy Commissioner of Police (ADCP) Gunnam Ramakrishna took Vamsi into custody from his residence in Gachibowli, Hyderabad, and brought him to Vijayawada. He was later shifted to Krishna Lanka police station, where he was questioned for more than eight hours. Around 9 pm, the police completed recording Vamsi's statement and took him to the New Government General Hospital in Vijayawada for a medical check-up before presenting him to a special court. Six other individuals accused in the case were also arrested.

It has been reported that Mudunuri Kiran, the brother of Mudunuri Satyavardhan – an eyewitness and complainant in the TDP office attack case – lodged a complaint with Patamata police, alleging that Vamsi had abducted Satyavardhan and threatened him with dire consequences if he failed to turn hostile. The YSRCP leader allegedly pressured the complainant to submit an affidavit, testifying before the magistrate his willingness to withdraw the case.

A day after submitting the affidavit, as demanded by Vamsi, Satyavardhan allegedly went missing, prompting his family members to file a complaint with Patamata police.

On the day of the attack on the TDP office in Gannavaram (February 20, 2023), Satyavardhan, a computer operator, was working when a group of people, suspected to be YSRCP activists, forcibly entered the office, vandalised furniture, set vehicles on fire, and abused the staff on caste grounds.

3 dead, 35 injured as 2 elephants go berserk

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Kozhikode

THREE devotees died and 35 others were severely injured when two elephants that were being paraded at a temple festival near Koyilandy went on the rampage on Thursday. The tragic incident took place around 5.30 pm at the Manakkulangara Bhagavathy temple in Kuruvangad.

The deceased have been identified as Leela, 65; Ammukutty Amma, 70; and, Rajan, 50.

It all started when an elephant named Peethambaran, which had been brought from Guruvayur, turned violent and attacked another elephant, known as Gokul. The two, who were standing next to each other, ran berserk. In the melee, a portion of the temple office building was damaged, leaving several people severely injured. Five people are in critical condition at various hospitals.

According to sources, Leela suffered fatal injuries as one of the elephants stepped on her. Ammukutty Amma and Rajan are believed to have died when debris from the collapsing office building fell on them. More details on the cause of death will be confirmed after the postmortem on Friday, Koyilandy police officers said.

"As per preliminary information, the elephants turned violent when fireworks were set off amid the performance of the traditional instrumental ensemble. The bodies are shifted to Kozhikode Medical College Hospital. Rajan died while being shifted Meitra Hospital, Kozhikode. The injured have been admitted to Kozhikode MCH and Koyilandy Taluk Hospital," said Kanathil Jameela, Koyilandy MLA. The elephants ran amok outside the temple compound for around 500 metres before they were brought under control by mahouts.

Health Minister Veena George directed the directors of the health services and medical education departments to ensure expert treatment for those injured. Special arrangements have been made at Koyilandy Taluk Hospital as well as at Kozhikode Medical College Hospital. The minister has also directed officials to ensure that there are enough expert doctors, nurses and other staff.

Forest Minister A K Saseendran has sought a report on the incident from the Kozhikode district collector and the chief conservator of forests, northern circle.

KIADB land parcels to be used for tourism

Bengaluru: The government has decided to give land acquired by Karnataka Industrial Areas Development Board to tourism agencies and stakeholders for tourism purposes, Tourism Secretary Salma K Fahim said here on Thursday She said the government has given tourism industrial status, which will help improve the sector. Stakeholders, including hoteliers, can buy land parcels acquired for industrial purposes to build hotels or for MICE projects, and apply for single-window clearance. If hoteliers or other stakeholders find land in any other part of the state, they can ask KIADB to acquire it. During the inauguration of the three-day Travel Tourism Fair (TTF) organised by Fairfest Media Limited, she said there are sufficient land parcels available with the tourism department in Karnataka that can also be given to stakeholders to take up works under public-private partnership. This proposal is now being sent to the State Level Single Window Agency for clearance, after which it will be placed before the cabinet for approval, and expression of interest will be called. A feasibility study has been done and land parcels identified. There are already 15-16 proposals before the department for land acquisition and projects.

Your cup of coffee to become dearer by Rs 5

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

THE cuppa that breaks your morning slumber, or keeps you awake during late night hours or even gives a refreshing break will pinch your pocket from this month-end.

The cost of a cup of coffee will rise by Rs 5. Reason: The cost of roasted powdered coffee sold by roasters will increase by Rs 100 per kg in February and again by Rs 100 per kg by March-end. Members of the Indian Coffee Roasters' Association and Coffee Board officials said price rise is inevitable.

This is the second price rise this financial year. The reason: fluctuations in the international coffee market.

Association president Perikal M Sundar said, "When the cost of coffee powder per kg goes up to Rs 1,000-1,100 from Rs 800-850, those selling a cup of coffee will have no option but to hike the price by around Rs 5. We cannot increase the chicory blend as it will affect the quality and aroma."

Coffee prices have been steadily increasing. Robusta prices increased from Rs 200 per kg to Rs 520 a kg from January 2024. Also, Arabica coffee prices shot up from Rs 290 to Rs 750 per kg between January 2024 and February 2025.

There are around 500 roasters in Karnataka. Of them, around 300 are in Bengaluru. Roasters are allowed to blend up to 49% chicory with coffee. But roasters blend not more than 15-20% depending on the demand.

Dr KG Jagadeesha, CEO and secretary, Coffee Board, Karnataka, said prices of coffee increased steadily from 2001 and now it is up 80%. It depends upon the international market where supply and demand is regulated.

Dalit man attacked by 3 caste Hindus for 'riding a Bullet' in Sivaganga

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Sivaganga

A 21-year-old man belonging to Scheduled Caste from Melapidavur village near Manamadurai in the district was attacked by three caste Hindus allegedly, according to the victim's family, for riding a 'Bullet' in the locality, late on Wednesday evening. However, police have denied the incident has anything to do with riding the high-end bike.

According to police, a "wordy duel in a drunken state" was the reason behind the attack.

Police said the rider, R Iyyasamy, sustained cut injuries to his left wrist and right arm and his condition is normal now. There was no chopping off the hand or looting of the victim's house, as alleged by Iyyasamy's family, police added.

He is undergoing treatment at Government Rajaji Hospital (GRH) in Madurai.

According to sources, the incident took place when Iyyasamy was returning home. He was intercepted by three caste Hindus -- R Vinothkumar (21), A Atheeshwaran (22) and M Vallarasu (21) -- of the same village and attacked "for riding such a high-end bike".

Muniyasami, the brother of the victim, said the trio attacked Iyyasamy saying "only boys from the higher community should ride such high-end bikes". They even tried to "kill my brother", who somehow managed to escape and reached home. "After we took him to a hospital, the suspects also ransacked our locked house. The nerves in the hands have been damaged," he added. Iyyasamy is pursuing third year BSc (mathematics) from a college in Sivaganga.

"My brother's semester exam is just around the corner. The trio wanted to disrupt his studies," Muniyasami alleged. The issue of caste dominance in the locality has been prevailing for years, he said, demanding police protection for the family members.

Chellamma, the victim's mother, claimed the accused were also having pending cases. Iyyasamy's father Boominathan said the trio were not happy with "my son riding the Bullet". Last time the caste Hindus had damaged the bike when they had bought the two-wheeler and parked it in their house, the father alleged.

THREE CLASS XI BOYS SEXUALLY ASSAULT CLASS VII GIRL IN SALEM

Coimbatore: Police arrested three Class XI students of a government school near Attur on Wednesday for allegedly sexually assaulting a Class VII student, who belongs to a scheduled caste community, of the same school. Police said the incident took place on January 22 inside the school premises after school hours. The issue came to light on February 10 after her relative informed child help line 1098. Subsequently, a team led by the District Child Protection Committee chief Srimurali conducted inquiries in the school.

SME Awards: Shift focus to Tier-2,3 cities, Shivakumar urges businesses

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

DEPUTY Chief Minister DK Shivakumar has urged businesses to shift their focus from Bengaluru and invest in Tier-2 and -3 cities, promising government support in infrastructure development and incentives for such investments.

If businesses are looking for cheaper labour, Tier-2 and -3 cities are the best option. The state will ensure that necessary infrastructure is developed in these cities, so investors need not worry, he said, highlighting the advantages of expanding outside Bengaluru.

Speaking during the Small and Medium Enterprises (SME) Award Ceremony at Invest Karnataka 2025, he emphasised the state's commitment to industrial growth beyond Bengaluru. "Our new industrial policy, led by Industries and Commerce Minister MB Patil, prioritizes small enterprises and investments in backward taluks identified by the Nanjundappa report. Businesses investing in these areas will receive incentives, and we are also considering setting up industrial parks at the taluk level," he said.

He underscored the role of enterprises in Karnataka's economy, stating, "The state grows when businesses grow, and employment is largely driven by small enterprises. Bengaluru was the first city in Asia to receive electricity, and India's space programme took shape in Peenya's industrial area. Karnataka has a strong business ecosystem."

Referring to his tenure as power minister, he said, "I established a large solar park to make the state energy-sufficient. A gas-based electricity plant is now operational in Yelahanka. Karnataka also has world-class educational institutions, producing a strong talent pool that attracts global attention," the DCM said.

Addressing Bengaluru's infrastructure challenges, he outlined major projects, including Metro expansion, double-decker bridges, tunnel roads and an additional supply of six tmcft of Cauvery water.

He also mentioned that Karnataka expects investments worth Rs 10 lakh crore, with companies from 19 countries already signing agreements. "Apart from industrial growth, we are also focusing on tourism development, with plans to develop a 300-km coastal belt under a new tourism policy," he added.

During the award ceremony, companies were recognised in various categories, including Best Performer in the District, Sector Excellence Award, Outstanding Woman Entrepreneur Award, and Empowerment Achievement Award.

Crusader of Halakki tribe, Sukri Bommagowda, walks into history

SUBHASH CHANDRA N S
@ Badigere (Uttara Kannada)

WELL-known folk singer from Uttara Kannada and recipient of around 80 awards, including the prestigious Padma Shri, Sukri Bommagowda, died on Wednesday night. The 88-year-old was suffering from respiratory ailment for the past two years. Her death comes months after the passing of Tulasi Gouda, an environmentalist from Ankola and also a Padma Shri award winner, from the same Halakki tribe. Sukri's death has dealt a severe blow to her efforts to get the ST tag for her tribe for which she had been fighting for the last couple of decades.

A self-made artiste, Sukri, better known as Sukrajji to the people of her community, had an early marriage at the age of 14 to 45-year-old Badigere Bommagouda and faced several setbacks in her life. She lost her newborn son the very next year of her marriage. A couple of years later she had another shock, her husband too died.

Sukri was left alone to fend for herself. With no care and shelter, her life was full of struggles. However, she found a way to keep herself happy by taking to singing and dancing in social gatherings like weddings and other functions through her 'Tarale Kunita' and 'Pugadi Kunitha', the local folk dance forms. "She used to go to various places on invitation and perform for honorarium which made her popular," informed Satu Govinda Gowda, her relative and a writer from her community.

Sukrajji formed a team of eight people with herself taking the lead role. The other members of her team include Padmavati Gowda, Kussli Gowda, Lakshmi Gowda, Nugli Gowda, Lalitha Gowda, Sannu Gowda, Gowri Gowda and Neelamma Gowda. They sang and performed dance using native instruments. "They are all residents of Badigere. They sang together and received a lot appreciation," said Sattu Gouda.

Sukri's popularity soared as she and her team sang as per the situation, demonstrating instant creativity. They connected with the people easily and quickly despite the fact that none from the team could read or write.

She and her team got due recognition with many awards coming their way. They visited many places within the state and across the nation.

Gadgil report helped W Ghats get UNESCO hotspot tag

Bengaluru: Forest Minister Eshwar B Khandre on Thursday said though the Madhav Gadgil report could not be implemented by the Karnataka government, it helped in getting the biodiversity hotspot tag for the Western Ghats. During the release of the Kannada translation of Prof Madhav Gadgil's autobiography, Khandre said the report released in 2011 played a significant role in the conservation of the Western Ghats and made UNESCO declare the Western Ghats as a biodiversity hotspot in July 2012. He said the state has been implementing the Kasturirangan report, identifying 20,668 sqkm as environmentally sensitive, of which 16,114 sqkm has already been protected.

'February was ideal for air show, but now it's become too hot'

"Initially, February was chosen as the ideal month for the air-show because of clear blue skies and the salubrious climate the month offers. But over the years, due to change in climatic conditions, February has become hot. Many people have been complaining about rising temperatures. It has also been observed that the flypast happens from 9am-12noon, or 12pm- 2pm and from 2pm-4pm when the skies are clear. The same can be done even in December," he said. The state government agencies are collating and studying how temperatures were in December in the previous years, before putting this suggestion on the table during the post-Aero India review meeting.

The official added there was also a rise in incidents of dry grass burning this season, which is unsafe. "The temperatures are high, weather is dry, grass is dry, making it an ideal fuel for combustion. No matter how many precautions are taken and dry grass cleared, there were minor incidents. This year a rise in the number of dust storms was also reported," he said. Due to the hot and dry weather conditions at the air-show, many visitors were seen exiting the venue foregoing the aerial displays.

"We had purchased tickets to see the show. Last time we watched from ADVA, and it was hot and dusty. This time, we came to the main display area. There was no dust, but the heat was too much. My colleagues and families were unable to handle it and we had to leave mid-show," said Sanchit L, who was at the show.

IMD forecasts rise in temperatures

The India Meteorological Department said summer has set in early this year and forecast a rise in maximum temperatures by 4-5 degrees Celsius compared to the normal in the coming days. IMD officials have cautioned that the summer will be intense this season. According to IMD data, on Thursday, Bengaluru recorded a maximum temperature of 33.6 degrees Celsius, which is 2.7 degrees Celsius higher than the normal maximum temperature. On Wednesday, the city recorded a maximum temperature of 33.6 degrees Celsius, which is 3 degrees Celsius above normal.

SOUTHERN STATES TIP GDP SCALES, CENTRE MUST BUOY UP FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

THE fact that South India far outperforms other regions of India and leads the country in economic progress needs no revalidation. In 2023-24, South India recorded a 6.3 percent GDP growth rate compared to 5 percent in the rest of India. According to V Anantha Nageswaran, CEA to the Union government, the southern region's per capita income has grown at 5 percent compared to 4.2 percent recorded for the rest of India. A recent report by CII, '2047 Southern Odyssey: Powering Ahead to a $10-Trillion Economy', said nearly one-third of India's GDP in 2023-24 came from southern states, with TN and Karnataka being the top contributors.

The numbers speak volumes. AP leads with 36.2 percent of South India's agricultural GDP, focusing on rice, fisheries, and livestock. TN focuses on automotive, textiles, and electronics, contributing 20.4 percent of South India's manufacturing GDP. Karnataka dominates the services sector, contributing 39 percent of South India's GDP from financial, real estate, and professional services. When it comes to social contributions, Kerala ranks high. Its literacy rate is 96.2 percent, and life expectancy is 75.2 years, above the national average of 69.4 years. Among others, the South's public healthcare systems and robust education policies have set benchmarks. What is also reassuring is the increasing participation of women in the workforce.

India's plan to become Viksit Bharat by 2047 has underlined key targets, such as a $30 trillion economy with a per capita income of $18,000. South India's focus on IT, manufacturing, and renewable energy will be crucial in driving the country's GDP growth spurred by a robust industrial base, a booming services sector, and modern agricultural practices. South India needs to continue emphasising human capital to drive innovation and productivity. States such as TN and Karnataka will have to hold on to their growth in manufacturing and better the scope in coming years, to give a leg up to India's dreams. It is equally imperative for the Centre to provide adequate financial support to these states without, as Union Minister George Kurian suggested, the states having to declare they are backwards in education, infrastructure and social welfare. The Centre should also expedite smooth fund flow to schools across the South to ensure an educated, highly-skilled workforce to drive GDP growth.

IT IS TIME TO MOVE AERO INDIA OUT OF BENGALURU

WHEN Defence Minister Rajnath Singh described Aero India 2025 as the "Maha Kumbh of collaboration" at its inauguration on February 10, was he unwittingly comparing the humongous traffic jams caused by both events? The biennial airshow held at Air Force Station Yelahanka (AFSY) since 1996, is now paralysing Bengaluru with long traffic gridlocks. This time, it was unprecedented.

The airshow organisers point to the event getting "bigger and better" with every edition. "Bigger", yes, but "better" is questionable. "Bigger" is directly linked to an ever-worsening paralysis on Bellary Road outside AFSY—a crucial arterial road connecting Bengaluru with Kempegowda International Airport, the third busiest airport in India. It's a nightmare for Bellary Road users and can be intimidating for potential foreign and domestic investors, exposing Bengaluru's vulnerabilities despite claims to be a global city. The citizens suffer due to the cascading effects of traffic snarls. It's time for the harsh realisation to dawn that an overgrown Bengaluru can no longer sustain large events like Aero India.

Apart from collaborations and deals to buy/sell military aviation products, Aero India also attracts the public as a bonus, which the defence sector thinks is a welcome trend for raising awareness about military aviation. However, increasing footfalls at Aero India, apart from the excruciating traffic bottlenecks due to poor traffic management, is also leading to poorer event management. Except for those excited by business and strategic prospects, Aero India has become a mundane affair with the same patterns, except when—like this time—a Su-57 makes an entry to salvage Aero India's reputation.

The scope to upscale Aero India to the levels of airshows in Paris or Singapore by improving facilities at AFSY is restricted. The station, in the vicinity of residences, railway tracks, and a national highway, belongs to the Indian Air Force and is used to train transport aircraft pilots and navigators.

It is time to look for another location to hold the ever-growing event. The defence ministry needs to scout for and develop a site exclusively for Aero India outside Bengaluru without compromising the advantage of proximity to India's premier aircraft manufacturer, HAL, Defence Research & Development Organisation centres and the Aerospace Park in Devanahalli.

QUICK TAKE

UNDERSTAND THE SPEECHLESS

INDIA'S population of older people may touch 340 million by 2050. Managing and rehabilitating those living with neurodegenerative disorders like Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis, Alzheimer's, Parkinson's and dementia is challenging. The harshest aspect is the gradual loss of speech, making it difficult for patients to convey their needs. AI can help, and India must invest in it to enable devices to understand and respond to patients' slurred or distorted speech. Where patients cannot speak, AI can convert gestures and facial expressions into speech signals their carers can comprehend. It will enable clear communication, relieve the frustration of being unable to convey, and make at-home care a more manageable prospect.

Kerala is beginning to stand out as a model of economic innovation and sustainable growth. It just needs to update its laws, slash regulations and streamline government processes

CHANGING KERALA: LUMBERING JUMBO TO A LITHE TIGER

SHASHI THAROOR

Fourth-term Lok Sabha MP from Thiruvananthapuram and the Sahitya Akademi winning author of 24 books, most recently Ambedkar: A Life

SOURAV ROY

BACK in 2007, in my book, The Elephant, the Tiger, and the Cell Phone, I described the Indian economy as an "old elephant", a creature with a "big, slow, lumbering" presence and a "long but not always happy history". For decades, this elephant trudged along under the weight of stagnation, constrained by policies of self-reliance that inadvertently stifled growth.

However, the elephant's journey took a decisive turn in 1991 when India embarked on a path of economic reform. Liberalisation, privatisation and globalisation injected new vitality into the economy, gradually replacing the elephant's "old fat" with "muscle". Over time, something extraordinary began to emerge—"large black stripes" swirling across its form. These stripes, bold and dynamic, symbolised the rise of a new India: an India of entrepreneurs, innovators, and startups. The elephant was evolving into a tiger—sleek, agile, industrious, and ready to leap into the future.

Is something similar happening to Kerala? Startups have suffused India's—especially Kerala's—economy, becoming ubiquitous. Indeed, according to the 2024 Global Startup Ecosystem Report, which analysed data from over 4.5 million companies across 300-plus entrepreneurial innovation ecosystems, Kerala has forged a startup ecosystem that, at the end of an 18-month period last year, was valued at a whopping $1.7 billion, five times more than the global average during this same period. Between July 1, 2021 and December 31, 2023, while the worldwide average growth was 46 percent, Kerala recorded a staggering 254 percent compound annual growth rate: a phenomenal feat.

This is a welcome change from what we had all heard and assumed about Kerala. It was said as recently as a year or two ago that whereas it takes three days to open a business in Singapore or America, it takes an average of 114 days in India—and 236 in Kerala. But just a couple of weeks ago, Kerala's industries minister P Rajeev announced that one can now open a business in Kerala in "two minutes".

If true and not just hyperbole, this is an astonishing development. Not just single-window approvals, but approvals of unbelievable rapidity seem to be happening. As Rajeev pointed out, Kerala has significantly improved its ranking in ease of doing business, moving from 28 (out of 29 states) to a top position. The state has implemented a new industrial policy focusing on knowledge-based industries, including AI, blockchain technology, and machine learning. Under the state's "Year of Enterprises" initiative, over 2,90,000 MSMEs have been established, with significant investments and support for women and transgender entrepreneurs. I had been constrained to observe in the past that "god's own country" was the devil's own playground for business. If that is no longer true, we all have reasons to celebrate.

As India's entrepreneurial ecosystem expands, Kerala is beginning to stand out as a model of economic innovation and sustainable growth. There is still a long way to go: I have pointed out that while many states have had the tragic experience of enduring farmer suicides, only Kerala has recorded cases of investor suicide—when people have sunk their life savings into business ventures and seen them lost because of labour trouble, political hostility and/or bureaucratic obstruction. This is why I have called for the state to adopt an Investor Protection Act, so investors can be assured their capital will be safe except for normal business downturns. Kerala will have to update its laws, slash regulations and streamline government processes for Rajeev's claim to become true across the board.

But the vision and intention are admirable. Kerala, with its strong historical foundation and strategic economic initiatives, has emerged as a dynamic centre for start-ups. Kerala's startup ecosystem has experienced impressive valuations and rapid scaling, positioning the state as a key player in India's economic ascent and a recognised leader in fostering entrepreneurial excellence.

In 2023, startups in Kerala raised $33.2 million, marking a 15 percent increase from the previous year, with seed-stage funding up by 40 percent. The Kerala Startup Mission has been at the forefront of this expansion, working to establish the state as a global hub for deep tech innovation. A testament to this vision is the $180 million emerging technology hub being developed at Technocity, Thiruvananthapuram, to complement the nation's first-ever Technopark, established in my constituency in 1992. The state also ranked highly in the 2024 Global Startup Ecosystem Report, standing out for its affordable tech talent and performance. Thiruvananthapuram hosts the annual "Huddle Global", the world's largest beach start-up festival, attracting tech entrepreneurs, start-ups and policy mavens from across the country and increasingly the world to confer in the state capital.

Notably, Kerala's commitment to advancing its startup sector is further demonstrated by the recent establishment of India's first digital science park in Thiruvananthapuram, a $181-million multidisciplinary initiative. With such dynamic growth, Kerala is well-positioned to continue leading India's tech and entrepreneurial transformation, contributing to the nation's larger vision of becoming a global economic powerhouse.

That this transformation has begun to occur under a communist-led LDF government seems astonishing, but it is not entirely surprising. The communists in Kerala, like their counterparts in West Bengal at the beginning of the century, understood that the path to growth and prosperity for their people lies in capitalism, entrepreneurship, and initiative, not in red flags, strikes, and agitations. There is a perception that this attitude only holds when they are in government and that they will return to their bad old ways if they lose the next state elections in 2026.

It is my hope and exhortation that this will not be the case and all political parties in the state will appreciate the urgent necessity for economic transformation to pull the state out of the doldrums it has found itself in. If all sides commit themselves to continuing on the path that has begun to be carved out in the state, the future of Kerala can once again be bright. And the lumbering Kerala elephant will become a lithe, sprightly, bounding tiger.

THE PRICING CROSSROADS LEGACY PUBLISHERS FACE

KAJAL BASU

Veteran journalist

THIS year is the Assam government's 'Year of Reading'. This declaration of intent came after the Guwahati Book Fair in January totted up ₹7 crore sales. It's a good slogan that ignores the fact that every year in India for nearly two decades has been a 'year of reading', with an exploding readership across the linguistic spectrum.

But Assam itself has no creditable publishing industry. The book fair had 15 publishers from Kolkata, 16 from New Delhi, and one from Gurugram—which means that the publishing industry has its roots elsewhere, mostly in the metropolises. India's publishing ecosystem is cartelised.

This is not to diss Assam: it had a modest 118 stalls and a footfall of 5.5 lakh. This year, the Kolkata Book Fair—the oldest in India and the second-largest in the world—had estimated sales of ₹27 crore from 1,057 stalls and a footfall of 29 lakh. The sales numbers from the intricately organised World Book Fair in New Delhi, which had 20 lakh visitors in more than 2,000 stalls, are not yet out, but as always, they are probably somewhat lower than frenetic Kolkata's.

These are mega book fairs, and it isn't entirely evenhanded to compare them with those in smaller cities. Nonetheless, extravagant averments abound, such as the Pune Book Festival's claim that 10 lakh visitors bought 25 lakh books worth ₹40 crore. Meanwhile, others are trying to commercialise themselves by taking the boxable route. The showcase at Jorhat, Guwahati and Sambalpur is on randomised books sold in cardboard crates of various denominations.

This makes for a commercial spread, from the conventional to the hyped to the questionably unorthodox. According to bibliophiles, discussions on books should be centred on themes, narrative lines, coherence, and decipherability, not on FMCG sales. However, publishing today is a capitalist-consumerist meta-enterprise—with fiction sales dominated by books with blingy, gilt-embossed covers—and every book fest must define itself in muscular marketing.

Time was, not long ago, when book fairs ran on discounts—not the 10 percent that every publisher hands out as condescending benediction today, but up to 70 percent of the cover price, depending on the thematic value of the book, its availability or rarity, its vintage, and its condition. Secondhand sellers bought books from space-constrained publishers and distributors by weight or volume—their covers, until a couple of decades ago, defaced or excised to hide their provenance—and sold them individually for a profit that all added up to being far less impositional on the pockets than new books.

PTI

For book lovers with lean wallets, these secondhand sellers at book fairs were lifesavers. The Kolkata Book Fair 2025 lacked secondhand booksellers. Whether it was a whimsical organisational exclusion or a studied commercial one, it led to a drop in the quantum of books sold

For book lovers with lean wallets—probably 90 percent of them—these secondhand sellers at book fairs were lifesavers. Books have always been hard on savings, although not many readers would consider them discretionary expenditure. While they didn't impact the presence of legacy publishers, secondhand booksellers were an anchor of book fairs. Publishers were once just that: they edited and printed stuff that independent marketing set-ups then distributed. At book fairs, publishers would sell their books directly to readers, discounted significantly by cutting out the distributor's substantial margin.

But that changed when publishers also became distributors, not only of their own books but of other niche or boutique publishers and titles by foreign publishers. However, when publishers became distributors—or distributors became publishers, as Jaico, which started as a distributor in 1946 and became "India's first publisher of paperback books in the English language" in 1955—they pretty much ended their tempting-discount regime. According to India's Association of Publishers, there were 9,037 publishers in the country in 2019. The vast majority of them are small-time, dependent upon others for distribution. The major publishers, however, are their own distributors, and none of them has any incentive to offer more than the baseline 10 percent discount at book fairs.

This is why you see book-buyers with mobile phones at the ready with the Amazon app open. At all publishers' stalls, they cross-check prices with Amazon—and, in nearly every single instance, Amazon beats the publishers' pricing by up to 30 percent. The book lovers check out the books at the kitab melas and order from Amazon. Why wouldn't they? India was (and remains) a price-sensitive market for books, where impulsive purchases continue to depend upon discounts on MRP.

The Kolkata Book Fair 2025 lacked secondhand booksellers. Whether it was a whimsical organisational exclusion or a studied commercial one, it led to a drop in the quantum—if not necessarily the value—of books sold. The Delhi Book Fair had a fair share of seconds, but they were allotted unappealing locations, and most browsers were prodded by strategic signage to the high-priced legacy publishers' stalls.

Indian legacy publishing is at a crossroads. It can either drop its appallingly high book prices or face the inevitable armageddon. Although, according to Milind Sudhakar Marathe, chairman of the National Book Trust, "the publication market is growing at an 18 percent rate", this figure is uncheckable. It could be less, and no one would know, for, as business journalist Debashish Mukherji wrote in 'Indian Publishing: An Area of Darkness', "seek the basis or source of these figures and it quickly emerges they are all conjectures".

Undermining productivity

The Supreme Court rightly recognises the potential for pre-poll promises of freebies to undermine long-term productivity and national development. These handouts carry the risk of fostering a culture of dependency, which, in turn, could diminish citizens' economic contributions.

Blair House stands tall in US diplomacy

Managed by State Dept & General Services Administration, it is more than a guest residence of American presidents

JAYANTH JACOB @New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi is staying at the Blair House, the historic guest residence of US presidents, which has been a symbol of American hospitality for a long time, hosting dignitaries and heads of state worldwide.

Indian Prime Ministers, in particular, have a notable history with the iconic residence. Jawaharlal Nehru stayed at Blair House during his three visits to the US in 1949, 1956, and 1961. His daughter, Indira Gandhi, followed suit on her first two visits to the US in 1966 and 1971.

However, in the decades that followed, this tradition was broken by several Indian leaders. In 1978, Prime Minister Morarji Desai chose to stay at a hotel instead of Blair House. Indira Gandhi in 1982, Rajiv Gandhi in 1985 and P V Narasimha Rao in 1994 also followed this tradition. However, Atal Bihari Vajpayee made Blair House his temporary home in 2000.

Indian Prime Ministers who were not staying in Blair House also made headlines sometimes. In 2009, Prime Minister Manmohan Singh opted to stay at the Willard Intercontinental Hotel, three blocks from the White House. India had specifically requested this arrangement. Officials clarified that the decision held no diplomatic significance. However, Singh stayed at Blair House during his 2005 and 2010 visits.

Narendra Modi continued with the tradition in September 2014 when he stayed at Blair House during his first official visit to the US as Indian PM.

Blair House, built in 1824 as a private residence, has a rich history. It has been the site of key moments in American politics, ranging from President Andrew Jackson's informal "Kitchen Cabinet" meetings to discussions with Abraham Lincoln. It played a crucial role in US diplomacy during World War II and was an important venue for international relations.

The guest book at Blair House includes the signatures of Indian leaders like Jawaharlal Nehru and Indira Gandhi, dating from December 19, 1956.

Indian-origin Paul Kapur Trump pick for South Asia

JAYANTH JACOB @New Delhi

INDIAN-origin Paul Kapur, an expert on South Asian security, has been nominated by US President Donald Trump to serve as the Assistant Secretary of State for South Asian Affairs. If confirmed by the Senate, Kapur will succeed Donald Lu, who completed his term on January 17, 2025.

Kapur, of Indian descent, is currently a professor in the Department of National Security Affairs at the US Naval Postgraduate School. He holds a PhD from the University of Chicago and a BA from Amherst College.

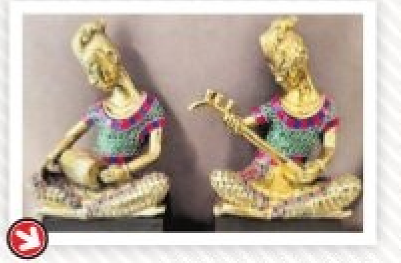
Prior to his academic role, Kapur taught at Claremont McKenna College and was a visiting professor at Stanford University. His expertise in South Asian security issues has made him a prominent figure in US foreign policy discussions. From 2020 to 2021, he served on the US State Department's Policy Planning Staff, where he contributed to strategies involving South and Central Asia, Indo-Pacific security, and US-India relations. He is also involved in directing US-India Track 1.5 dialogues and managing defense-related engagements between the two countries.

Kapur will oversee US diplomatic relations with key countries in the region, including Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Bhutan, India, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, the Maldives, Nepal, Pakistan, Sri Lanka, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan, and Uzbekistan. His extensive knowledge of regional security dynamics and Indo-Pacific strategy will be crucial in navigating the complexities of South Asia's geopolitics.

Kapur has authored several influential publications on South Asian security, nuclear policy, and international relations. His books include Jihad as Grand Strategy: Islamist Militancy, National Security, and the Pakistani State, and Dangerous Deterrent: Nuclear Weapons Proliferation and Conflict in South Asia.

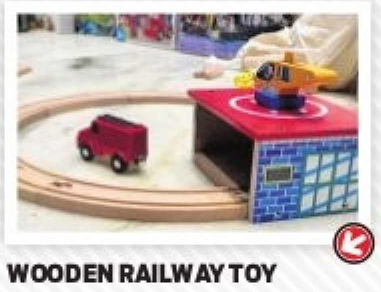
GIFTS OF DIPLOMACY, CULTURAL HERITAGE

On his visit to Paris for the AI Action Summit, Prime Minister Narendra Modi presented some carefully curated gifts to French President Emmanuel Macron, First Lady Brigitte Macron, and the family of US Vice-President JD Vance. A look:



DOKRA ARTWORK

A Dokra artwork depicting traditional musicians was gifted to President Macron. This metal-casting tradition from Chhattisgarh is crafted with the ancient lost-wax technique.



WOODEN RAILWAY TOY

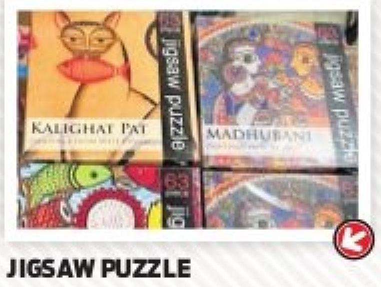
A wooden railway toy set was chosen for Vivek Vance, son of US Vice-President JD Vance. Made from natural wood and painted with vegetable dyes, it ensured eco-consciousness.

SILVER HAND-ENGRAVED MIRROR

A hand-engraved silver table mirror from Rajasthan was presented to Brigitte Macron, reflecting the region's legacy of fine metalwork. The intricate detailing and polished finish made it an artisanal, but functional heirloom.

WOODEN ALPHABET SET

A wooden alphabet set was selected for Mirabel Rose Vance, daughter of JD Vance, reflecting India's longstanding tradition of handmade wooden toys.



JIGSAW PUZZLE

Ewan Blaine Vance received a jigsaw puzzle with renowned Indian folk painting styles, including Kalighat from West Bengal, Santhal from eastern India & Madhubani from Bihar.

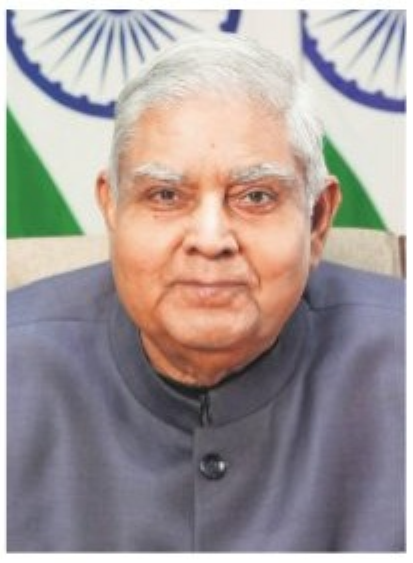
Dhankhar: Only Parliament can address judge removal

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi



RAJYA Sabha Chairman Jagdeep Dhankhar on Thursday said that only Parliament has the jurisdiction to address the issue of removing Justice Shekhar Kumar Yadav from the Allahabad High Court, after 55 Opposition MPs submitted a motion citing his alleged misconduct.

In a suo motu statement in the Upper House, Dhankhar announced that the Rajya Sabha Secretary-General has been directed to share the information with the Secretary-General of the Supreme Court.

"Honourable members, I am seized of an undated notice for motion received on December 13, 2024, bearing 55 purported signatures of the members of the Rajya Sabha seeking removal from office of Justice Shekhar Yadav of Allahabad High Court under Article 124(4) of the Constitution," he said.

"The jurisdiction for the stated subject matter constitutionally lies in exclusivity with the Rajya Sabha chairman and in an eventuality with the Parliament and Honourable President," he said.

Justice Yadav was accused of making communal remarks at a Vishwa Hindu Parishad event in December last year.

The Supreme Court took note of his controversial speech at the VHP Legal Cell event in Allahabad, where he allegedly supported the Uniform Civil Code (UCC) and made remarks allegedly targetting minorities.

Justice Yadav later appeared before the Supreme Court Collegium, led by Chief Justice of India Sanjiv Khanna.

As many as 55 Opposition MPs in the Rajya Sabha submitted a notice under the Judges Inquiry Act of 1968, seeking a motion to remove Justice Yadav from his position due to his alleged misconduct.

As the Chairman of the Rajya Sabha, Vice President Jagdeep Dhankhar has the authority to either admit or reject the motion. If admitted, a three-member committee consisting of a Supreme Court judge, a high court chief justice, and a distinguished jurist will be formed. This committee will investigate the complaint and determine whether sufficient grounds exist to initiate the removal process.

V-P's authority

As the Chairman of the Rajya Sabha, Vice President Jagdeep Dhankhar has the authority to either admit or reject the motion moved by 55 Opposition MPs in Rajya Sabha against Allahabad HC judge Justice Shekhar Yadav over his political speech. If admitted, a three-member panel consisting of a Supreme Court judge, a High Court Chief Justice, and a distinguished jurist will be formed to probe the complaint and determine if sufficient grounds exist to initiate the removal process.

Plea on privacy of adolescents in SC on Mar 19

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@ New Delhi

WHILE hearing a plea seeking enforcement of right to privacy of adolescents, the Supreme Court on Thursday noted that there are "some issues difficult for the court to resolve."

The top court listed the matter for further hearing on March 19.

"These are some of the issues very difficult for the court to resolve. When we see such matters, we realise that there are grave limitations to our power," said a two-judge bench led by Justice Abhay S Oka.

The apex court was hearing a case where a minor victim of sexual assault eloped with and married the man facing charges under POCSO Act.

During the hearing, senior advocates Madhavi Divan and Liz Mathew — who were appointed as amicus curiae in the case — submitted that it was a "very strong indictment of systemic failure at all levels, be it family, social, school, police and legal."

After hearing them, the Supreme Court sought their suggestions for the prevention of suffering of adolescent girls and their families and fixed the matter for further hearing to March 19.

The case came to apex court when the Calcutta High Court had acquitted the accused, who was sentenced to 20 years in prison for establishing sexual relations with the minor victim. The High Court had issued a slew of recommendations including that an adolescent girl must "control sexual urge/ urges..."

After the High Court judgment, the Supreme Court had taken suo motu cognizance of the case with respect to the remarks made by the High Court on teenage girls. The Supreme Court set aside the High Court judgment in August 2024, and restored the conviction of the accused in the case. The Supreme Court said the High Court's observations are in violation of the rights of adolescents under Article 21 of the Constitution.

The apex court further directed West Bengal to constitute a three-member committee of experts to help the minor victim to make an informed choice regarding her future. The West Bengal government had also moved the Supreme Court against this October 18, 2023 verdict of the High Court.

The Supreme Court had earlier said that the judges should not express their personal belief or opinion or try to preach while hearing the case.

'Why keep B'desh immigrants who served sentence?'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday reserved its verdict in the issue of detention of illegal Bangladeshi immigrants in the country. It questioned the Centre as to why verification was necessary to deport the immigrants who have entered the county illegally, and since some of them have even served their jail sentence already in India.

"We reserve the verdict in the issue. We will pass it later," said a two-judge bench comprising Justices JB Pardiwala and R Mahadevan.

The court has reserved the verdict while considering the 2013 case of Maju Daruwala versus Union of India. This case was transferred from the Calcutta High Court to the apex court for speedy disposal.

During the hearing on Thursday, the apex court asked the UoI, "When an immigrant is apprehended, put to trial, and is convicted, he is not entitled to stay in this country without a valid passport. Why not deporting them so far?"

'200 daycare cancer centres to be set up in FY26'

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @New Delhi

THE Union Health Ministry has begun setting up 200 daycare cancer centres in over 750 district hospitals in the country, a top ministry official said on Friday.

"We have started carrying out surveys to assess the gaps in these over 750 district hospitals. We plan to upgrade them after we get the detailed report. Then we will start the process of setting up daycare cancer centres," Union Health Secretary Punya Salila Srivastava told this newspaper.

In her budget speech, Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman had announced facilitating setting up of daycare cancer centres in all district hospitals over the next three years. "Our government will facilitate the establishment of Daycare Cancer Centres in all district hospitals over the next three years. Two hundred centres will be set up in 2025-26," Sitharaman had said.

The health secretary said the total estimated expenditure in the next three years in establishing these daycare cancer centres will be ₹3,200 crore.

The aim of setting up daycare cancer centres is to bring essential cancer services closer home, particularly for those in underserved rural areas.

The focus is also on providing chemotherapy services and conducting cancer prevention and awareness programme.

With the country witnessing rising morbidity due to cancer, which is posing a public health challenge, cancer screening for individuals aged above 30 years is being undertaken at the 1.6 lakh Ayushman Arogya Mandirs in the country.

The secretary, who briefed the media on the budget allocation for the health ministry said ₹3,000 crore was approved for 19 State Cancer Institutes and 20 Tertiary Cancer Care Centres in the last decade.

She said cancer treatment facilities have been approved in all 22 new All India Institutes of Medical Sciences (AIIMS).

She said the budget has also made the provision of full exemption and concessional duty on select cancer and other life-saving drugs. Highlighting that health is a priority for the government, Srivastava said, from 2015 to 2026, the health budget has seen 160 per cent increase in the budget allocation. The ministry was allocated ₹9,406 crore this fiscal, an increase of 28.8% from 2024-25.

Under the Ayushman Bharat-Pradhan Mantri Jan Arogya Yojana (AB-PMJAY) scheme, women have availed 47% of total cancer treatments, worth ₹19,737 crore.

Cancer treatment amount accounts for 35% of the treatments done under PMJAY, considered to be the largest insurance scheme in the world. The scheme provides ₹5 lakh per family per year for secondary and tertiary care hospitalisation.

She said timely initiation of cancer treatment increased by 90% for citizens covered under Ayushman Bharat.

According to Global Cancer Observatory data for 2022, the most common cancers among men in India are oral cavity, lung, and esophageal cancer, while breast, cervical, and ovarian cancer are the most prevalent among women.

Treatment closer home

The health secretary said the total estimated expenditure in the next three years in establishing these daycare cancer centres will be ₹3,200 crore. The aim of setting up daycare cancer centres is to bring essential cancer services closer home, particularly for those in underserved rural areas. The focus is also on providing chemotherapy services.

China threat? Z-category security for Dalai Lama, BJP's Manipur in-charge

MUKESH RANJAN @New Delhi

THE Union Home Ministry on Thursday provided a Z-category security to Tibetan spiritual leader Dalai Lama after receiving a threat assessment report from the Intelligence Bureau (IB), officials said.

For years, intelligence reports have indicated a potential threat to the spiritual leader's life from various sources, including China-backed groups.

According to sources, Dalai Lama will get 33 security staff in Dharamshala and outside. He will be protected by CRPF commandos. Till now, he remained under the protection of the Himachal Pradesh police and other security agencies, but the MHA has now assigned the task to the CRPF to ensure a more coordinated and robust protection plan, sources said.

Dalai Lama has been residing in India since 1959 after fleeing Tibet following the Chinese occupation. His presence in India has been a sensitive issue in Sino-Indian relations. While India considers Tibet an autonomous region of China, it has continued to provide home to the spiritual leader.

Over the years, Chinese authorities have criticised his global engagements, viewing them as a challenge to their control over Tibet.

Many in the intelligence and security establishment believe that given Dalai Lama's status and the complex geopolitical tensions surrounding Tibet, his security has been a key concern.

Under the Z-category security protocol, the Dalai Lama will be protected by a dedicated team of CRPF commandos, along with an escort and close-protection officers during his travels within the country.

The government's move also reflects a proactive approach to securing high-profile individuals who face security threats.

Z-category security to Sambit Patra in Manipur

The home ministry has also accorded Z-category security to BJP leader Sambit Patra in Manipur. The 50-year-old Puri MP oversees the party's affairs in the troubled state. The Z-category is a security detail of 22 personnel, including 4-6 CAPFs commandos and police personnel.

CAMP FIRING

A CRPF jawan allegedly killed two of his colleagues and injured eight others before taking his own life at a camp in Manipur on Thursday, official sources said. The accused was from the 120th battalion of the force.

Cong gets new prez in Maha top deck shakeup

The Congress president has appointed Harshwardhan Sapkal as the president of the Maharashtra Pradesh Congress Committee. The party appreciates the contributions of Nana Patole

KC Venugopal, AICC general secretary

'Say no to functions'

Aditya Thackeray told his party's MPs and MLAs not to attend the functions, such as dinners hosted by Eknath Shinde-led Shiv Sena. Any one wanting to attend any function should seek permission from the party, Thackeray said.

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

CONGRESS president Mallikarjun Kharge on Thursday appointed Harshwardhan Sapkal as the new Maharashtra Congress unit president, replacing Nana Patole. Kharge also approved the appointment of Vijay Namdevrao Wadettiwar as the leader of the Congress Legislative Party in Maharashtra with immediate effect.

"The Congress president has appointed Harshwardhan Sapkal as the president of the Maharashtra Pradesh Congress Committee with immediate effect. The party appreciates the contributions of the outgoing president Nana Patole," said a statement from AICC general secretary (organisation) KC Venugopal.

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi had met Patole last week. During the meeting, sources said, Gandhi hinted at a major rejig in the Maharashtra Congress. "Harshvardhan Sankalp is known as a core member of the Rahul Gandhi team. Sapkal is also president of Rajeev Gandhi Panchayat Raj Mission," a party leader said.

"Congress MLC Satej Patil and MLA Amit Deshmukh were also in race for the MPCC president post but Rahul Gandhi decided to give opportunity to the ideologically committed party worker who comes from a very humble background," the leader said, adding Sapkal has mentioned humanity as his caste and religion. Satej Patil is likely to be given the leader of opposition position in the state legislative council, sources said.

Patole had resigned as the MPCC chief after the party's rout in the Maharashtra assembly elections where the Maha Vikas Aghadi failed to form its government and lost badly to the ruling MahaYuti alliance. Patole had urged the party to give him a new responsibility.

Sapkal represented the Buldhana assembly seat in the Vidarbha region from 2014 to 2019 and was a senior party observer for Odisha assembly and Lok Sabha elections last year.

Meanwhile, Shiv Sena (UBT) leader Aditya Thackeray, who was in Delhi, told his party's MPs and MLAs not to attend the functions, such as dinners hosted by Eknath Shinde-led Shiv Sena. Any one wanting to attend any function should seek permission from the party, Thackeray said.

Amid MVA fracas, Rahul meets Aaditya in capital

Those who are anti-Maharashtra are anti-nationals. We cannot honour such persons who indulge in such dirty work. This goes against our principles. I am not aware of Sharad Pawar's principles

Aaditya Thackeray, Sena (UBT) leader

'Never doubt Pawar'

NCP SP MLA Jitendra Ahwad said Sharad Pawar's leadership shouldn't be doubted. "Pawar never treats anyone as untouchable in politics. He always shares the stage and keeps relations even with his political opponents."

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

IN a significant development, Shiv Sena (UBT) leader Aaditya Thackeray met Congress leader Rahul Gandhi on Wednesday night. The meeting comes amid growing tensions in the Opposition MVA after NCP (SP) chief Sharad Pawar felicitated Maharashtra Deputy Chief Minister Eknath Shinde on Wednesday.

The two leaders — Thackeray and Rahul Gandhi — are also learnt to have discussed allegations against the Election Commission in the conduct of elections in the state.

Cracks have further widened in the alliance after Sharad Pawar conferred the Mahadji Shinde Rashtra Gaurav Puraskar on Eknath Shinde, who walked away with the majority of legislators of the then-undivided Shiv Sena in 2022 to topple Uddhav Thackeray's government.

Aditya Thackeray said he was shocked to see Sharad Pawar felicitate "traitor Shinde" with an award instituted by Pune-based NGO Sarhad. "Those who are anti-Maharashtra are anti-nationals. We cannot honour such persons who indulge in such dirty work. This goes against our principles. I am not aware of Sharad Pawar's principles," he said.

Shinde became Chief Minister with support from the BJP and subsequently gained control of the Shiv Sena.

Responding to the allegations, NCP SP MLA and former minister Jitendra Ahwad said that Sharad Pawar's leadership shouldn't be doubted. "Pawar never treats anyone as untouchable in politics. He always shares the stage and keeps relations even with his political opponents. Pawar treats politics and personal relations differently," he said.

The Mahayuti of the BJP, Shiv Sena and the Ajit Pawar-led NCP won the November assembly election, dealing a body blow to the MVA, which was hoping for an encore after virtually sweeping the state in the Lok Sabha polls. In last year's assembly election in Maharashtra, the Mahayuti bagged 235 seats in the 288-member House while the MVA managed 50.

Aditya 's meeting with AAP convener Arvind Kejriwal on Thursday also assumes significance as it comes on the heels of its Delhi debacle.

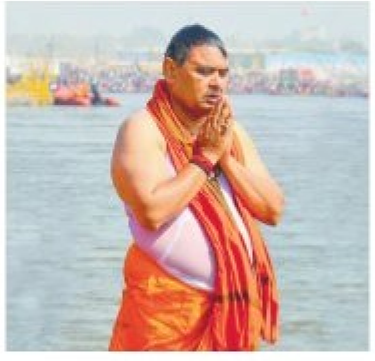
CM blends governance with spiritual spectacle

After he wasn't content with just one dip at the Maha Kumbh, CM Bhajanlal Sharma returned for another! First, he was spotted taking the holy plunge alongside Madhya Pradesh CM Mohanlal Yadav, a moment that got political circles buzzing. But the showstopper came when Sharma, accompanied by cabinet ministers, party MLAs and even the Assembly Speaker took the holy dip at Sangam. Politics followed them into the waters! Even a cabinet meeting was held at the Rajasthan Mandap in Prayagraj, blending governance with the spiritual spectacle.



'Is it in my hands?' Raje reply triggers flutter

Is Vasundhara Raje set for a political comeback or resigned to the sidelines? A viral video has set Rajasthan political circles abuzz after a supporter urged the two-time CM to take back the top post. Her response: a dramatic raise of both hands and a loaded question — "Is it in my hands?" The remark has fueled fresh speculation about Raje's standing in BJP. Once the party's face in Rajasthan, the 71-year-old was seen as a frontrunner for the CM post after 2023 Assembly polls. Surprisingly, BJP chose debutant MLA Bhajanlal Sharma instead, leaving Raje loyalists fuming.

'Phone-tapping' back in desert state politics

Phone tapping is back in headlines in Rajasthan. At a recent public meeting, BJP leader Kirodi Lal Meena shocked everyone by accusing his own party's government of tapping his phone, sparking a political storm. But after facing much heat, Meena backtracked, apologising and clarifying his statement. But the damage was already done; the controversy had already been reignited. This uproar has dragged Rajasthan's old phone-tapping scandal back into limelight. During Sachin Pilot's 2020 rebellion, former CM Ashok Gehlot was accused of snooping on both Congress and BJP leaders. Sensing an opportunity, Pilot has now raked up the past.

J'khand father, sons kill student over boyfriend

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

IN a case of honour killing, father and her two brothers were arrested for killing the girl, an intermediate student. Initially, buried the dead body in the septic tank at home for 10 days, then beheaded the dead body and dumped it at the river bank under the sand after packing it in a jute sac when police raised doubts over their role in the killing.

The girl, Nibha Pandey, was a student of class12 and was to appear for Intermediate board exam this year only.

To deceive the police, Madan Pandey filed a missing report in the police station. When police started the investigation, girl's last location was found to be at her home, due to which, police was doubtful over the role of the family in the incident. According to police, the father and two brothers of the girl have been arrested and sent to jail.

"It is a case related to honour killing. The deceased's father Madan Pandey and two brothers Nitish Pandey and Jyotish Pandey have been arrested and sent to jail," said the Koderma SP Anudeep Singh.

Union Carbide toxic waste unloaded from trucks five days before HC deadline

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

FORTY-three days after being transported from Bhopal, the safe containers holding more than 350 tonnes toxic waste of Union Carbide factory were finally unloaded from the trucks at the treatment-storage-disposal-facility (TSDF) in the industrial town, Pithampur in Dhar district on Thursday.

"The process of unloading the containers from the trucks took around 4 hours at the TSDF in Pithampur. Process of unloading the containers was carried out in the presence of local public representatives, media personnel and experts, including officials of the pollution control board," a senior official said.

The members of the Pithampur Bachao Samiti, which has been spearheading the protests stood away from the TSDF, despite being invited to be present during the unloading of the containers at the facility, where the incineration of the waste is planned on the order of the MP High Court.

"Entire process of unloading the containers from the trucks which was followed by the departure of the emptied trucks has been video filmed," the official added.

The unloading happened just a day after the Shav Satyagraha protest. The protestors laid down on the ground like corpses for 12 minutes at the TSDF in Pithampur. They have been booked for staging the protest without prior permission from the local administration-police.

Based on the report submitted by the local authorities, the state government will file its status report before the MP High Court on February 18. The status report, apart from details of the unloading of the 12 containers at the TSDF, will also include the series of dedicated Information, Education and Communication (IEC) activities carried out by the government in Dhar, Pithampur and Indore, to dispel the myths prevailing among the public, about the planned incineration of the toxic waste at the Pithampur TSDF.

Punjab cabinet gives nod to disburse ₹14,000 CR arrears to 6 lakh employees and pensioners of state

Cabinet also gave nod to create new posts in Punjab State Legal Services Authority for setting up 22 new Lok Adalats

A decision to rename scheme for financial assistance to acid victims as "The Punjab Financial Assistance to Acid Victims Scheme, 2024"

Punjab cabinet decisions

In a move to generate more than 50,000 jobs for youth, cabinet also gave nod for Waiver of Stamp Duty, Registration Fee and other additional charges for transfer of land to the Special Purpose Vehicle (SPV)

HEEDING the result of the Delhi assembly election, which the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) lost, its government in Punjab went on a bonanza spree on Thursday, much before the 2027 assembly polls in the state.

The Punjab cabinet, meeting after four months, decided to disburse pending arrears worth ₹14,000 crore among state government employees and pensioners.

Finance Minister Harpal Singh Cheema said arrears of revised pay or pensions and leave encashment will be released from January 1, 2016, to June 30, 2022, and dearness allowance (DA) from July 1, 2021, to March 31, 2024.

Three lakh employees and an equal number of pensioners will benefit from this move.

The cabinet also nodded to create new posts in the Punjab State Legal Services Authority for setting up 22 new Lok Adalats. The cabinet sanctioned 476 new posts in the department.

The government decided to recruit 53 regular drivers in the excise department and amended rules and qualifications for direct recruitment of Physical Training Instructors (PTI teachers) in the elementary education department.

In another measure, the cabinet is reviving 822 posts of the Group C cadre in the health and family welfare department to enhance efficiency. It also gave approval for creating 97 posts of various cadres in the Dr BR Ambedkar State Institute of Medical Sciences, SAS Nagar. The teaching faculty at the Maharaja Bhupinder Singh Punjab Sports University, Patiala are to get UGC scales.

In a move aimed at generating more than 50,000 jobs for youth, the cabinet gave the nod for waiver of stamp duty, registration fee and other additional charges for transfer of land to the Special Purpose Vehicle "NICDC Punjab Industrial Corridor Development Corporation Limited" for the Integrated Manufacturing Cluster being developed as a part of the Amritsar Kolkata Industrial Corridor Project.

Allottees who defaulted by failing to deposit the money against the plot/ land allotted to them by PUDA and other Special Development Authorities are to get an amnesty policy.

Uninvited guest strays into Lucknow wedding

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

A wedding celebration in Lucknow took a dramatic turn on Wednesday night when a leopard strayed into the venue, injuring a sub-inspector and two cameramen. The leopard was rescued after a five-hour-long chase.

The dramatic incident unfolded at MM Lawn on Budheshwar Ring Road around 11:40 pm during the wedding of Akshay Srivastava and Jyoti Srivastava. As the celebrations reached their peak, the leopard gatecrashed the event, sending hundreds of guests fleeing for safety. Guests, catering staff, and even the bride and groom ran for cover as the adult leopard roamed the venue, turning the decorated arena into an abandoned site.

According to local sources, two photographers were the first to spot the feline predator. One of them leapt off a staircase, while the other ran towards the lawn, screaming.

What followed was sheer panic as guests scrambled to find a safe refuge. Confused by the flashing lights and the screaming people, the leopard darted around the venue, searching for an escape.

Upon receiving information about the leopard's presence, police and forest department officials rushed to the scene and immediately cordoned off the area. "When we arrived, we saw the guests stuffed in cars, some hiding behind makeshift barricades, and others had climbed onto nearby terraces," said Inspector Ramesh Tiwari, one of the first responders.

To locate the leopard, authorities deployed a drone. The live footage confirmed that the animal was on the roof, crouched in a corner. As the forest department team cautiously climbed the stairs to approach it, the feline, sensing danger, suddenly leapt down.

"It all happened in seconds. One moment the leopard was on the roof, and the next, it was charging towards us. It roared and pounced on our officer," said a police constable involved in the rescue operation. The agitated and cornered leopard attacked Sub-Inspector Muqaddar Ali, who was leading the team. Ali lost his balance, and his rifle slipped from his grasp.

Despite his injuries, the S-I managed to roll away, giving his colleagues enough time to respond. The forest officials fired a tranquiliser dart, but the feline dodged it and ran towards the far end of the wedding venue. The chase continued for the next few hours, leaving the wedding party in turmoil. The bride's family was distressed, the food was wasted, and guests had left, with both families waiting in their respective cars. Police used loudspeakers to warn residents: "Do not go out alone. Lock your doors. Stay away from open spaces."

Finally, at around 2 am, authorities managed to subdue the leopard. A second tranquiliser dart found its mark, and within minutes, the animal's movements slowed. It was then safely captured and caged. "It was one of the most challenging operations we've handled in an urban setting in recent times," said a forest official.

With the leopard finally removed, the shaken wedding party hesitantly returned, and the wedding rituals resumed. However, the festive spirit had waned, leaving behind unforgettable memories for all.

Strengthening safety: 99K women trained in self-defence in Gujarat

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

IN a groundbreaking initiative aimed at boosting safety and fostering community ties, the Suraksha Setu Society in Gujarat has empowered over 98,852 women with self-defence training and enrolled 45,579 students in the Student Police Cadet Scheme.

Focusing on holistic security, the Society has provided crucial counselling services to over 79,900 senior citizens and 49,000 students. Suraksha Setu is building a resilient, safer society while fortifying the essential police-public bond by promoting women's empowerment, child safety, and traffic awareness.

Founded in September 2012, the Suraksha Setu Society has been a driving force in transforming community policing and public safety in Gujarat. The Society has built a robust police-public connection through its multifaceted initiatives—ranging from women's empowerment and child protection to counselling for senior citizens and students.

The Gujarat Government remains steadfast in its commitment to protecting its citizens, backing it with an annual budget of ₹20 to ₹30 crore for the Suraksha Setu Society. For over 12 years, this initiative has been at the forefront of public empowerment, actively enhancing safety measures across the state. By continuously strengthening community ties and safety protocols, the Society ensures that Gujarat stays ahead in its mission to safeguard its people.

Simultaneously, the Society has successfully rehabilitated over 478 women bootleggers, helping them transition from illicit activities to productive livelihoods, thus promoting both social stability and reduced crime.

The Student Police Cadet Scheme has also seen remarkable success, with 45,579 students shaping up as future civic leaders, while traffic awareness programs have reached over 1,62,000 citizens, fostering safer driving practices.

Additionally, approximately 79,931 senior citizens have benefited from counselling, ensuring they are informed and compliant with legal matters. As a testament to its community-building efforts, 49,014 students have received counselling, and more than 94,800 children have visited police stations, strengthening bonds of trust and respect between youth and law enforcement.

KARNATAKA POWER TRANSMISSION CORPORATION LIMITED

(CIN : U40109KA1999SGC025521)

No. EE(E)/Operation/DBP/2024-25/2415   Date: 11.02.2025

PUBLIC NOTICE

Karnataka Power Transmission Corporation Limited (KPTCL) is a Power Transmission Utility, wholly owned by Government of Karnataka. Under the guidelines of Central Electricity Authority, Government of India, KPTCL is Transmitting power under different Extra High voltage of 400KV, 220KV and 66KV.

The Transmission Lines coming under the jurisdiction of the undersigned is passing through the Geographical area in Doddaballapura Tq, Devanahalli Tq, Chikkaballapura Tq, Shidlaghatta Tq, Chinthamani Tq, Bagepalli Tq, Gudibande Tq, Gowribidanur Tq, Madhugiri Tq, Hosakote Tq, Bengaluru North Tq and Bengaluru Rural District.

The KPTCL has observed, that public are constructing Residential buildings, Industries, Commercial Establishments etc., in the corridor of the Transmission lines in the above mentioned Geographical areas. In some places, Residential buildings are constructed and residing underneath the Transmission Lines, which is endangerous to the life of public and their property. Due to this electrical accidents are occurring and are increasing day by day.

KPTCL does not encourage the construction of buildings, plantations, storing flammable materials under the EHT lines or involving and other activities near High Voltage lines. Awareness among the public is created by issuing notices and pamphlets. Despite, if accidents occur the owners/residents of those buildings are responsible and KPTCL will not be held responsible for the same.

Construction of buildings/temporary sheds close to electric towers or lying banners and buntings to the tower are extremely dangerous. Walking, flying kites and drying clothes or carrying out any kind of activity on top of buildings constructed close to or below Extra High Voltage lines is very dangerous as it will be close to induction zone of Extra High Voltage lines resulting in casualties or even death. Such accidents are frequently reported in many newspapers and in electronic media. In order to prevent such accidents, the owners/residents of such buildings should not carry out any activities under or in vicinity of such Extra High Voltage Lines.

As per Central Electricity Authority Regulations-2010 for Measures Relating to Safety and Electric Supply) construction of buildings below EHT lines is illegal. As mentioned in the Regulation, the minimum horizontal clearance between the building and EHT line to be maintained is as given below;

Clearance	66KV	220KV	400KV
Corridor clearance	18 metres	35 metres	46 metres

As per C.E.A Regulations it is the responsibility of every citizen to maintain minimum Horizontal distance as mentioned above. In view of safety it is informed to clear such buildings that are built illegally. Otherwise the owners will be held responsible for any future accidents, interruption in power supply etc, and police complaint will be registered against the offenders and necessary action will be taken as per law.

This notification is issued in Public interest.

Don-Putin talks on Ukraine in Saudi Arabia

Both leaders take the world by surprise with their phone call; US President says Prince Salman will also be involved in the parley

WASHINGTON

US President Donald Trump revealed on Wednesday he expected to meet Russian President Vladimir Putin in Saudi Arabia for Ukraine peace talks, in an extraordinary thaw in relations after a surprise phone call between the two leaders.

In their first confirmed contact since Trump's return to the White House, the US president said he had held a "lengthy and highly productive" conversation with the Russian counterpart.

But the move sparked concerns that Ukraine will be left out of talks on its own fate, after Trump said Kyiv's wish to join NATO was not "practical" – a key demand of Moscow.

Trump, who has been pushing for a quick end to the nearly three-year war, denied that Ukraine was being excluded from the direct negotiations between the two nuclear-armed superpowers.

"We expect that he'll come here, and I'll go there – and we're going to meet probably in Saudi Arabia the first time," Trump told reporters in the Oval Office about his plans to meet Putin.

Trump said he expected it to happen "in the not too distant future" and added that Saudi Crown Prince Prince Mohammed bin Salman – who played a key role in a Russia-US prisoner exchange this week – would also be involved.

The Kremlin said the call lasted nearly one-and-a-half hours. The two leaders had agreed that the "time has come to work together" and that Putin has invited Trump to Moscow, it said.

Europe warns US dirty deal likely to fail

Brussels: Europeans warned Thursday that a "dirty deal" between US President Donald Trump and Moscow on ending the Ukraine war was doomed to fail – insisting they and Kyiv must have a seat at the negotiating table. German Chancellor Olaf Scholz rejected any "dictated peace" and his defence minister called it "regrettable" that Washington was already making "concessions" to the Kremlin

Before taking office on January 20, Trump had promised to end the Ukraine war "within 24 hours".

Trump took the world by surprise as he announced the phone call on his Truth Social platform earlier, saying he and Putin had "both agreed, we want to stop the millions of deaths taking place in the War with Russia/Ukraine," using an unconfirmed figure for the toll in the conflict.

The US president said they had agreed to "work together very closely, including visiting each other's Nations" and to "have our respective teams start negotiations immediately" on Ukraine.

Trump later called Ukraine's President Volodymyr Zelensky, who was not included on the call with Putin.

Zelensky said afterwards that he had a "meaningful" call with Trump in which he had "shared details" of his talks with Putin. Trump said after the conversation that Zelensky "like President Putin, wants to make PEACE."

Andriy Yermak, head of Kyiv's presidential office, said in televised comments that Zelensky and Trump had agreed to "immediately" start work on the high-level teams from each side who will try to hash out a deal.

The teams will "begin a process of daily work" and Zelensky and his officials will meet US officials involved at the Munich Security Conference in a day's time, he said. AFP

FINDING A COMMON MEETING GROUND

Both nations will have to make a lot of concessions for the three-year war to end, which has cost tens of thousands of lives. Here's where they stand

WHAT MOSCOW WANTS

1 Putin said that to end the war in Ukraine, the "root causes" of the conflict needed to be resolved. He wants withdrawal of US and NATO forces from former Soviet countries and eastern bloc members

2 Russia also demanded a commitment from NATO that it would not offer membership to any other ex-Soviet nations, including Ukraine, or conduct military operations on former USSR territory

3 The Kremlin ruled out the idea of swapping territory in Russia controlled by Ukraine for Ukrainian territory controlled by its army. Moscow wants "new realities on the ground" taken into consideration

4 It has also ruled out direct talks with Zelenskyy, claiming that his presidential term ended last year. Under martial law imposed after the invasion, Zelenskyy remains leader and is internationally recognised

WHAT KYIV WANTS

1 President Volodymyr Zelenskyy wants the war to end as soon as possible and for Ukraine to get security guarantees that would deter future Russian attacks, like NATO membership or a large-scale foreign peacekeeping contingent

2 He has said talks should include Ukraine, Russia, the United States, and the European Union, since Kyiv – currently a candidate – hopes to join the bloc

3 Kyiv is refusing to cede territory to Russia but Zelenskyy has conceded that Ukraine may only be able to reclaim some territories later through diplomacy. He has sought to rally allies around the Ukrainian vision for ending the war through two documents, the Peace Formula and the Victory Plan. He has said that talks excluding Kyiv will fail

4 He had previously said that a complete withdrawal of Russian troops would be a precondition for talks and that only peace can permanently end the war

Hamas to release 3 hostages as planned, Israel yet to react

CAIRO

HAMAS said on Thursday it would release three more Israeli hostages as planned, paving the way toward resolving a major dispute over the ceasefire in the Gaza Strip.

Hamas said its delegation held talks in Cairo with Egyptian officials and was in contact with Qatar's prime minister about bringing into Gaza more shelters, medical supplies, fuel and heavy equipment for clearing rubble — its key demand in recent days. It said in a statement that the mediators had pledged to "remove all hurdles."

There was no immediate comment from Israel on Hamas' announcement, but it should allow the ceasefire to continue for now, though the future of the truce remains in doubt.

Hamas had threatened to delay the next release of captives, accusing Israel of failing to meet its obligations to allow in tents and shelters, among other alleged violations of the truce.

Israel, with the support of US President Donald Trump, had threatened to renew its offensive if hostages were not freed. The truce faces a much bigger challenge in the coming weeks. The first phase is set to conclude at the beginning of March, and there have not yet been substantive negotiations over the second phase, in which Hamas would release dozens of remaining hostages in return for an end to the war.

Trump's proposal to remove some 2 million Palestinians from Gaza and settle them in other countries has thrown the truce's future into further doubt. The plan has been welcomed by Israel but vehemently rejected by Palestinians and Arab countries, which have refused to accept any influx of refugees. Human rights groups say it could amount to a war crime under international law.

Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's far-right allies are already calling for a resumption of the war after the first phase with the goal of implementing Trump's plan and annihilating Hamas, which remains in control of the territory. AP

Musk suggests deletion of entire agencies from US govt

DUBAI

ELON Musk called on Thursday for the United States to "delete entire agencies" from the federal government as part of his push under President Donald Trump to radically cut spending and restructure its priorities.

Musk offered a wide-ranging survey via a videocall to the World Governments Summit in Dubai, UAE, of what he described as the priorities of the Trump administration interspersed with multiple references to "thermonuclear warfare" and the possible dangers of artificial intelligence.

"We really have here rule of the bureaucracy as opposed to rule of the people — democracy," Musk said, wearing a black T-shirt that read: "Tech Support." He also joked that he was the "White House's tech support," borrowing from his profile on the social platform X, which he owns.

"I think we do need to delete entire agencies as opposed to leave a lot of them behind," Musk said. "If we don't remove the roots of the weed, then it's easy for the weed to grow back."

While Musk has spoken to the summit in the past, his appearance on Thursday comes as he has consolidated control over large swaths of the government with Trump's blessing since assuming leadership of the Department of Government Efficiency.

"A lot of attention has been on USAID for example," Musk said. "There's like the National Endowment for Democracy. But I'm like, 'Okay, well, how much democracy have they achieved lately?'" He added that the US under Trump is "less interested in interfering with the affairs of other countries."

Musk also announced plans for a "Dubai Loop" project. AP

The aftermath of the accident scene in central Munich where an Afghan driver drove a car into a labour union demonstration, injuring 28 including children | AP

Asylum seeker plows car into Munich crowd

BERLIN

A driver drove a car into a labour union demonstration in central Munich on Thursday, injuring at least 28 people including children, authorities said. Officials said it was believed to be an attack.

The suspect, an Afghan asylum-seeker, was arrested. The incident follows a series of attacks involving immigrants in recent months that have pushed migration to the forefront of the campaign for Germany's Feb 23 election.

Participants in a demonstration by the service workers' union ver.di were walking along a street at about 10.30 am when the car overtook a police vehicle following the gathering, accelerated and plowed into the back of the group, police said.

Officers arrested the suspect after firing a shot at the car, deputy police chief Christian Huber said. He added that at least 28 people were believed to be injured, some of them seriously. A damaged Mini was seen at the scene, along with debris including shoes.

The suspect was a 24-year-old Afghan asylum-seeker, Huber said. Bavaria's state interior minister, Joachim Herrmann, said the man was known to authorities in connection with theft and drug offenses, but didn't give further details. He said officials believe the protest was likely targeted at random.

The state's justice minister, Georg Eisenreich, said a prosecutors' department that investigates extremism and terror was looking into the case.

"We feel with the victims, we are praying for the victims — we hope very much that they all make it," Bavarian governor Markus Söder told reporters at the scene.

"It is suspected to be an attack — a lot points to that," Söder added. Mayor Dieter Reiter said that children were among those injured. AP

NATO tests new deployment model without US

NEA ANCHIALOS

NATO is testing its ability to rapidly deploy across eastern Europe — without direct US assistance — as Washington shifts its approach toward European defense and the war in Ukraine.

The six-week Steadfast Dart 2025 exercises across Bulgaria, Romania and Greece are taking place as Russia's invasion of Ukraine approaches the three-year mark. They involve some 10,000 troops from nine nations and represent the largest NATO operation planned this year.

The US absence from the exercises comes as European nations scramble to build greater military self-sufficiency over their concerns about the Trump administration's commitment to common defense and demands for increased European military spending.

President Donald Trump on Wednesday announced his intention to negotiate with Russia directly. And US Defence Secretary Pete Hegseth said at his first meeting with NATO colleagues in Brussels on Wednesday that European nations should dramatically increase their defense spending and shoulder the "overwhelming share" of funding for Ukraine.

Greek and Spanish marines led Thursday's military demonstration, an amphibious assault near the central Greek city of Volos, in the first full-scale operational deployment of NATO's new Allied Reaction Force.

Established last July, the force represents NATO's latest strategic evolution, designed to deploy at scale within 10 days and combining conventional forces with cyber and space-based technologies.

The ARF's commander, Italian Lt Gen Lorenzo D'Addario, said, "The thinking is that NATO wanted to have a force that is ready, that is flexible, that can operate across the five domains—air, sea, land, cyber and space—in a way that ensures it answers the (needs) of defending the alliance, but also deterring (conflict)." AP

VILLAGES TOLD TO EVACUATE OVER ERUPTION

Indonesian authorities raised the alert level for an eastern volcano to its highest on Thursday, widening an exclusion zone and ordering half a dozen villages to evacuate before a possible eruption. In November, Mount Lewotobi Laki-Laki on the tourist island of Flores erupted multiple times, killing nine people, cancelling scores of international flights to Bali and forcing the evacuation of thousands. The latest emergency measures around the 1,703-metre (5,587-foot) twin-peaked volcano came after increased seismic and volcanic activity. AFP

POLICE NOD NOT REQUIRED FOR PROTESTS

Malaysia agreed on Thursday to relax laws on public protests, including axing the need to receive prior permission for demonstrations, a long-time bone of contention for activists who hailed the move. Prime Minister Anwar Ibrahim told parliament that a provision in the Peaceful Assembly Act will be removed. Police often have used the rule as a reason to prevent rallies from taking place, saying if no green light was given by local property owners, demonstrations would not be allowed. From now no approval is required except for a five-day notice to the police. AFP

Panel to decide Syria's future takes shape

DAMASCUS

THE conference to chart Syria's political future will include all segments of Syrian society except for the Kurdish-led administration in the northeast and loyalists of the repressive former government of Bashar Assad, organisers said on Thursday.

"This will be the first real gathering of Syrians in 75 years," said Huda al-Atassi, a former detainee and a member of the organising committee for Syria's national dialogue conference. She read the panel's statement at a news conference in Damascus.

The conference will cover "social, political, economic and governance issues, laying the foundations for a solid future based on national consensus, justice, reform and inclusion," she said.

In late January, Syria's former rebel factions appointed Islamist former rebel leader Ahmad al-Sharaa as interim president of the country after an offensive he led toppled Assad in late December. They also threw out Syria's constitution, adopted under Assad, saying a new charter would be drafted.

Most of the former insurgent factions also agreed to dissolve and join the new Syrian army and security services, but the US-backed, Kurdish-led Syrian Democratic Forces in northeastern Syria has so far refused to do the same. AP

Judge clears the way for Trump to downsize federal workforce

WASHINGTON

A federal judge on Wednesday removed a key legal hurdle stalling President Donald Trump's plan to downsize the workforce with a deferred resignation programme.

The Boston-based judge's order in the challenge filed by a group of labor unions was a significant legal victory for the Republican president after a string of courtroom setbacks.

Another group of unions filed a lawsuit in Washington, DC late Wednesday, though its potential impacts were not immediately clear.

About 75,000 federal workers accepted the offer to quit in return for being paid until Sept 30, according to McLaurine Pinover, a spokesperson for the Office of Personnel Management.

American Federation of Government Employees National President Everett Kelley said in a statement that the union's lawyers are assessing the next steps.

"Today's ruling is a setback in the fight for dignity and fairness for public servants," Kelley said. "But it's not the end of that fight. Importantly, this decision did not address the underlying lawfulness of the program."

The union continues to maintain that it's illegal. AP

I-T Bill tabled in LS; panel to submit report by Mar 10

Bill will simplify language, structure of the existing I-T Act, says FM

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

Nirmala Sitharaman in Parliament during Budget session on Thursday | PTI

FINANCE minister Nirmala Sitharaman tabled the Income-tax Bill, 2025 in Lok Sabha on Thursday. Following the introduction, the Bill was referred to the select committee of the Lok Sabha, which will submit its report by March 10.

While introducing the Bill, the finance minister said substantial changes have been made in the Bill. In a statement, the Finance Ministry said that the Bill is a significant step toward simplifying the language and structure of the Income-tax Act, 1961. Once the Bill is passed by the Parliament and becomes an Act, new rules and forms will be notified. Simultaneously, the government will develop software to set up the systems and processes for various administrative and quasi-judicial functions. The Bill is expected to come into force by 1 April 2026

As per the ministry, the draft Bill has been prepared after a consultation process. It says the government ensured widespread stakeholder engagement, consulting taxpayers, businesses, industry associations, and professional bodies.

"Out of 20,976 online suggestions received, relevant suggestions were examined and incorporated, where feasible. Consultations were held with industry experts and tax professionals and simplification models from Australia and the UK were studied for best practices," said a finance ministry statement. A committee of about 150 officers of the Department was actively involved in the entire exercise.

On the need for the exercise, the ministry said the Income Tax Act, 1961, has become very bulky with over 4,000 amendments, year-on-year through Finance Acts. In a FAQ, the ministry says while the existing Act contains 298 numbered sections, effective sections in the current Act are 819 – other than numeric section numbers there are large number of sections with alphanumeric codes such as 115A to 115WM and so on. In comparison, the new Bill has only 536 sections. The Bill has 250,000 fewer words and 24 less chapters. They have added 39 tables and 40 formulas to make the law more comprehensive. All provisos (about 1200) and explanations (about 900) have been removed to make the bill shorter.

Addressing the criticism that the exercise to draft a new law has led to no 'material' change, the government says the Bill has tried to remove redundant provisions, consolidate provisions scattered across sections/chapters relating to a single issue, and use tables, formulae extensively for enhanced clarity.

JSW's KSK Mahanadi bid gets NCLT nod

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Hyderabad bench of the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) on Thursday approved the ₹16,084 crore resolution plan submitted by JSW Energy Limited for KSK Mahanadi Power Company Limited, a Chhattisgarh-based thermal power company.

The corporate insolvency resolution process against KSK Mahanadi Power Company Limited was initiated by Power Finance Corporation Limited in October 2019.

The Resolution Professional (RP) – Sumit Binani – received ₹32,335 crore claims from different creditors including 19 banks and financial institutions.

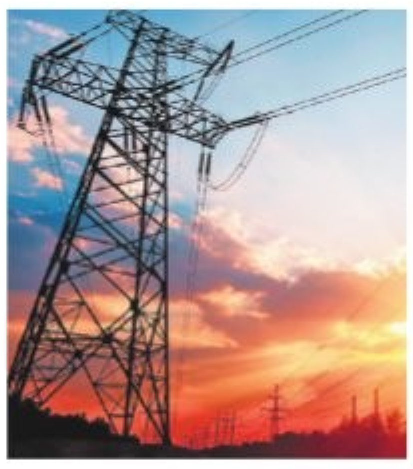
In response to the Expression of Interest issued by the RP, a total of 10 Prospective Resolution Applicants (PRA) submitted the Resolution Plan, which includes NTPC Limited, Vedanta Ltd. and Adani Power Limited.

In order to maximise the value of the assets, a Swiss challenge process was adopted and JSW Energy Limited emerged as the highest bidder. The Resolution plan was approved with 100% voting from the committee of creditors (CoC).

The resolution amount of ₹16,084 crore is about 50% of the amount claimed and 235% of the liquidation value of the company at ₹6,848.

As per the resolution plan, an upfront cash payment of Rs15,985 crore will be paid to the financial creditors, and an upfront payment of Rs 99 crore to operational creditors.

Of the ₹16,084 crore, JSW Energy will raise ₹13,000 crore in the form of debt and ₹3,084.08 crore in the form of quasi-equity.



KSK Mahanadi Power Company Limited (KMPCL) owns a 3,600 MW thermal power plant, utilising domestic coal and located in the state of Chhattisgarh. Presently, 1,800 MW (600 MW x 3 units) is operational which is 95% tied-up under long & medium-term power purchase agreements. An additional 1,800 MW (600 MW x 3 units) is under-construction out of which one unit (600 MW) is 40% completed and balance of plant is in place for the remaining 1,200 MW. The plant has a firm arrangement for water and coal transportation for the entire 3,600 MW.

The company's total locked-in thermal generation capacity stands at 7.5 GW and total locked-in generation capacity stands at 28.2 GW. This positions JSW Energy to achieve its target of 20 GW significantly before 2030 and is committed to a net zero target by 2050.

Adani Power, Vedanta were also in the race

In response to the Expression of Interest issued by the resolution professional (RP), a total of 10 Prospective Resolution Applicants (PRA) submitted the Resolution Plan, which includes NTPC Ltd, Vedanta Ltd. and Adani Power Limited. In order to maximise the value of the assets, a Swiss challenge process was adopted and JSW Energy Limited emerged as the highest bidder.

Budget's goal is to boost private investment: FM

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

Finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Thursday said the goals of the Budget 2025-26 is to accelerate growth, give boost to inclusive development, and invigorate private sector investments.

Replying to a discussion on the general Budget in Rajya Sabha, she said the Budget was prepared during a challenging time, with external challenges beyond estimates or forecasts. Despite this, the government has tried to keep the assessment as accurate as possible, keeping India's interests paramount, she said. "There are no models that you can build and understand how the trends will be because they are dynamic... Despite that, we have tried keeping assessments as close as possible, keeping India's interests as topmost...This uncertainty is playing out and many Indian imports critical for our economy to grow are going to be left with uncertainty," she added. She stressed that the Budget has not cut sectoral allocations and the effective capex during the next fiscal is estimated at ₹19.08 lakh crore.

Adani Green withdraws power projects from Sri Lanka after local protests

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

ADANI GREEN ENERGY is withdrawing its wind energy project and two transmission projects in Sri Lanka. "Adani Green Energy has conveyed its Board's decision to respectfully withdraw from further engagement in the RE wind energy project and two transmission projects in Sri Lanka. However, we remain committed to Sri Lanka and are open to future collaboration if the Government of Sri Lanka so desires," said an Adani Group spokesperson on Thursday.

The decision to withdraw the energy projects comes amid protests from locals and scrutiny over their approval by Sri Lanka's previous government. It is also seen as a victory for the current Sri Lanka President Anura Kumara Dissanayake who has been a staunch critic of the deal and had vowed to cancel the same in his election campaign.

The Adani Group, however, is going ahead with the construction of the West Container Terminal at the Colombo port, along with the Sri Lanka Ports Authority (SLPA) and conglomerate John Keells Holdings.

> Adani Green Energy has conveyed its Board's decision to respectfully withdraw from further engagement in the RE wind energy project and two transmission projects in Sri Lanka
>
> Adani Group spokesperson

Sri Lanka had started reviewing the Adani Group's local projects in their country following the US Department of Justice indicted Adani Group chairman Gautam Adani and seven others on charges of bribery in November last year. Adani Group has denied the allegations, calling them baseless. Sri Lanka's Cabinet, led by President Dissanayake, has decided to revoke the power purchase agreement with the Adani Group. According to a report citing officials from Sri Lanka's Ministry of Energy, the government has cancelled the deal and established a committee to review the entire project.

In May 2024, the government, then under President Ranil Wickremesinghe, signed an agreement with the Adani Group to procure electricity at a rate of $0.0826 per kWh. The Adani Group had planned to build a 484 MW wind power plant in the coastal areas of Mannar and Pooneryn.

Local reports indicate that the Adani wind power project faced significant opposition within Sri Lanka, primarily due to concerns over the pricing of the agreement. The rate set by the Adani Group was much higher than what local bidders had offered, fueling further criticism of the deal.

Meanwhile, an Adani Group spokesperson said that the project has not been cancelled and the government's decision to review the process is part of a "standard review process.

Hindalco profit surges 60% to ₹3,735 crore

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

ADITYA BIRLA GROUP company Hindalco Industries on Thursday reported a 60% rise in consolidated net profit to ₹3,735 crore for the third quarter of the current financial year, aided by higher income.

The company reported a net profit of ₹2,331 crore in the year-ago period, the company said in an exchange filing. Total income rose to ₹58,899 crore from ₹53,088 crore a year earlier. Its expenses were at ₹53,563 crore as against ₹49,761 crore in the December quarter.

Sharing an update on the acquisition of fabrication facility of Home Build Tec, Hindalco Industries said the negotiations on the proposed acquisition did not materialise, and the transaction has officially been closed. The board has appointed Bharat Goenka as the CFO with effect from April 1, 2025. In a statement, the company's MD Satish Pai said, "Hindalco delivered robust consolidated results in the third quarter despite global uncertainties, driven by an excellent performance of its India business.

In India, aluminium business reported a 25% in upstream revenue at ₹9,993 crore. While downstream also reported 25% increase to ₹3,195 crore in the December quarter. Revenues from copper business rose 15% to ₹13,732 crore.

Saluja ousted from REL Board as she fails to get shareholders' approval

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

IN a major development, Religare Enterprises (REL) has siad Rashmi Saluja ceased to be a director on its board after failing to secure shareholder approval for her reappointment.

Effective February 7, 2025, Saluja is no longer a non-independent director, REL stated in a regulatory filing. The decision followed a clarification sought by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI), with the response received on Thursday.

REL referenced a report by the Scrutinizer, which revealed that 97% of votes were cast against the resolution to reappoint Saluja to the board, dated February 7, 2025. Saluja's exit comes amid her ongoing conflict with the Burman family, who are in process of acquiring additional 26% stake in REL via an open offer. Her departure follows recent accusations by REL investors that she hijacked the company's annual general meeting (AGM), where she reportedly dropped the agenda item concerning her reappointment.

Saluja had maintained that her directorship was not subject to retirement at this time.

In a bid to prevent her removal, Saluja had approached the Delhi high court, seeking intervention. She leveled charges against REL, market regulator Sebi and JM Financial, alleging non-compliance and violations of RBI conditions. Saluja's exit coincides with an open offer for Religare by US-based investor Danny Gaekwad. However, Gaekwad reportedly missed the extended deadline set by the Supreme Court to deposit the required ₹600 crore, effectively sidelining his proposal.

This development, as per experts, paves the way for the Burmans to become majority stakeholders in REL. As of September 30, 2024, the Burmans, via four entities — Finmart Private Ltd, Puran Associates Private Ltd, VIC Enterprises Private Ltd, and Milky Investment & Trading Company— collectively hold a 25.12% stake in REL. Following the open offer, their stake is expected to rise to 53.94%. The Burmans plan to acquire the additional 26% stake in REL at an offer price of ₹235 per share. Meanwhile, Praveen K Tripathi, non-executive independent director of the Company appointed as the Chairperson until June 30, 2025.

Centre asks K'taka labour ministry to probe Infy layoffs

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

THE Ministry of Labour and Employment on Thursday directed the Karnataka state Labour Ministry to examine the layoff issue in IT services company Infosys. "Take urgent necessary actions to resolve the dispute and inform the complainant accordingly under intimation to this ministry," stated a letter from the Ministry of Labour and Employment.

This comes days after IT employee union Nascent Information Technology Employees Senate (NITES) filed a complaint with the ministry to take action against Infosys for laying off freshers.

Over 400 freshers were laid off from Mysuru campus last week. However, NITES claims the number to be 700. In its complaint, it said, "It has come to our attention, through numerous complaints received from affected employees, that Infosys has resorted to forcibly terminating recently onboarded campus recruits who had suffered a delay of two years in their joining after being issued offer letters." It alleged the company has compelled these trainees to sign "mutual separation" agreements under duress without their informed consent. "The affected employees have been confined to meeting rooms at Mysore campus, where they are being subjected to intimidation tactics, including the presence of bouncers and security personnel, to ensure compliance with the company's unilateral decision," Harpreet Singh Saluja, President, NITES alleged. This newspaper spoke to a few trainees who had said they were not allowed to carry phones and were asked to vacate the campus immediately.

Carlyle enters domestic auto component sector

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

THE US-based investment firm Carlyle Group has entered the domestic auto components market by buying a controlling stake in an entity formed by the combination of two auto-parts makers - Highway Industries, a firm formed by the Munjals of the Heromotors and Haryana-based firm Roop Automotives.

Though Carlyle didn't disclose value of the deal in its public statement, a source in the know of the deal-making told TNIE it was concluded for $400 million. The equity for the investments will come from funds affiliated with Carlyle Asia Partners, the firm said, adding it will own 65-70% stake in the platform.

The Ludhiana-based Highway Industries manufactures automotive parts specialising in forging and precision machining and its products include powertrain parts and subsystems such as pistons, crank shafts, connecting rods, kick starter spindles, arm assemblies, flange axles, shafts, flanges, and sleeves. Started in 1971 as a manufacturer of cold forged components by the Munjals, it has three manufacturing plants in Ludhiana.

The Gurugram-based Roop Automotives produces steering yokes, steering joints, slip shafts, steering columns, steering gearbox housing, axle drive shafts, and exports them to Europe and North America.

The founders of both the firms will continue to hold stakes in the merged platform, Carlyle said. On January 7, competition regulator had given its nod to the transaction that constituted a securities swap between Highway and Roop, and a 68.9% stake buy in Roop by Carlyle.

The acquisition gives the US-listed Carlyle an entry into domestic auto components space and will deepen its investments in the precision-machined auto components for applications in electric, hybrid, and ICE-powered vehicles, apart from adding to synergies of Highway and Roop's assets. "India offers a large opportunity in auto components supply chain for both domestic and export markets. This provides a large-scale opportunity for us with the platform," Amit Jain, MD and head of Carlyle India said.

The acquisition comes as Carlyle looks to double down on investments in advanced manufacturing and the industrial sector. As of December 2024, it has invested $32 billion of equity across 125 deals, with about $1.1 billion of this in Asia.

Tata to double charging points to 4 lakh by 2027

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

TATA EV, electric vehicle arm of Tata Motors which controls more than half of the EV space, has roped in independent charging point operators (CPOs) to help build mega charging points. The company's charging station count will go up to 4 lakh points, more than double of existing count.

The immediate plan is to enable over 30,000 public fast chargers via its open collaboration framework. Announcing the initiative here on Thursday, Shailesh Chandra, MD of Tata Motors Passenger Vehicles and Tata Passenger Electric Mobility, said the objective of the initiative is to enable growth of EVs, aiming to expand charging network to over 400,000 points in next two years, in partnership with leading CPOs. It signed MoUs with Tata Power, ChargeZone, Statiq and Zeon to operationalise 500 mega chargers in two years in the first phase. These chargers will be deployed across key cities and major highways.

The plan includes installing over 30,000 public charging points, Balaje Rajan, chief strategy officer at Tata Motors Passenger Vehicles and Tata Passenger Electric Mobility, told reporters. He, however, refused to answer questions on investment that will go into this from its side. It has sold over 2 lakh EVs, making it leader in the passenger EV space. Since 2019, Tata EV has been at the forefront of advancing EV charging infra, first by partnering with Tata group companies.

Worlds medallist Panghal turns professional

India's lone male boxer to win a World Championship silver medal, Amit Panghal, has become the latest from the country to turn professional. One of India's most accomplished male boxers, the 29-year-old has signed with US-based talent management company Critical Sports and Entertainment.

As WPL enters third year, youngsters will get a chance to leave a mark while playing alongside some elite talents

DOMESTIC STARS AND YOUNG GUNS IN FOCUS

GOMESH S @ Chennai

IN a cricketing calendar, a year is a long time. Not just for a player or a team but the sport itself. A lot happens in 12 months, and a lot changes too. It was like yesterday when Royal Challengers Bengaluru beat Delhi Capitals to win the 2024 edition of the Women's Premier League, but the next season is already here, beginning in Vadodara on Friday.

In the time since Smriti Mandhana lifted that coveted trophy at the Arun Jaitley Stadium in New Delhi, a lot has happened in the realm of the women's game. New Zealand won their first T20 World Cup, India defended their U19 World Cup title as the way the shortest format is approached by the players slowly, but steadily, changing especially in India.

From its inception in 2023, WPL has served as a platform for players to grab their moment on the big stage and move forward towards their dream of playing for India. At the same time, perhaps, the biggest impact it has had was showing the cricketers who toiled day in and day out in domestic cricket what they need to do to get to the next level. And more importantly, how to do it. And the results are already starting to show in the way teams bat in domestic cricket.

What has also played a role in making it happen is the cricketers getting an avenue to upskill themselves throughout the year, in particular, the off season. Franchises who are involved, time-to-time, conduct camps and keep track of the players they have invested in round the year. DC head coach Jonathan Batty explained it at a recent press conference. "What's been really nice for me is seeing how our domestic players have improved over every off-season. A lot of people probably don't know that we run regular camps through the off-season. Players come in, obviously do specialised work with our coaches. They go off to play for their states, their regions, and play for India again. And it's been really nice seeing some of those players. A great example would be Minnu Mani, who came to us two years ago. Very raw, hugely talented individual. Looking at where she's gone now, obviously representing India," he said.

And it is not just the senior cricketers, players who are coming through the age-group level are looking up to WPL as a platform they have to be a part of and are willing to do the work to get to that level. India's U19 WC-winning star G Trisha did not get a contract in December and it made her realise the avenues she has to work on. Now, with the upskilling she has been able to do, it should be surprising if she is not a regular. And it is not just Trisha or Minnu, G Kamalini is with Mumbai Indians and Niki Prasad is a part of Delhi Capitals as the next-gen stars are making their headway to the next level.

"The improvement from our domestic Indian players and national players as well has been incredible to watch. How much they've been getting better just through the opportunity that WPL provides to play alongside international players and their Indian stars as well, but also sort of give them exposure to playing on the big stage, I guess. And only improve at that if you get the experience and opportunity to do that. The other thing it does do is it just provides a platform for young girls to see what's possible and actually see what the pathway is to go and play for franchises or for your country. When you can see that as a young person, I think that's really inspiring. It sort of gives you something to work towards and something that you feel like you can achieve," Former Australia and current DC captain Meg Lanning said.

While the tournament is still very young and has a long road ahead in terms of business and mass popularity, there are enough signs that it is doing more good to players, especially Indian domestic stars. This year, for the first time, the tournament will be held in four different cities — Vadodara, Bengaluru, Lucknow and Mumbai. How the fans and local public receive and the contribution from the non-India stars for their respective teams are the two things to watch for in this edition. For it will play a role in determining the roadmap for the tournament in coming years.

QUICK GLANCE

WITH THE THIRD EDITION OF THE WOMEN'S PREMIER LEAGUE SET TO BEGIN ON FRIDAY, A LOOK AT HOW THE TEAMS SHAPE UP...

Vadodara leg schedule
Feb 14	GG vs RCB
Feb 15	DC vs MI
Feb 16	GG vs UPW
Feb 17	DC vs RCB
Feb 18	GG vs MI
Feb 19	DC vs UPW

Delhi Capitals

Having reached the finals in both the seasons, they will be keen to go one step further this time. Good thing is they have the team for it. Led by Meg Lanning, DC has the perfect mix of firepower in both batting and bowling departments. This could also be the season where Annabel Sutherland and Jemimah Rodrigues cut above the rest.

Mumbai Indians

Another team that is packed with all-rounders. To have 12 overs from your top four batters is a luxury itself. Add the experience of Chloe Tryon, and Nadine de Klerk in the lower-order, MI is as formidable as they have been. Meanwhile, keep an eye out for G Kamalini, the U19 WC star, who will be keen to make waves.

UP Warriorz

They will miss the services of captain Alyssa Healy, but it gives a chance to Deepti Sharma to establish her credentials as a leader at the highest level. It also puts someone like D Vrinda on the limelight as she will be the trump card at the top of the order. Grace Harris, Tahlia McGrath and Alana King will provide the firepower in the middle.

Gujarat Giants

Two disappointing seasons on, they have a new captain in Asheligh Gardner. And at the core of their batting with the Aussie trio of Gardner, Beth Mooney and Phoebe Litchfield. However, it will come down to how D Hemalatha, Harleen Deol can compliment the overseas batters.

Royal Challengers Bengaluru

The defending champions have a long list of injury concerns that they could field an injured XI. While they will be hoping that Shreyanka Patil and Ellyse Perry are able to take the field from get go, the bigger miss will be Sophie Devine. Smriti Mandhana will need her Indian batters to rise to the occasion while relying heavily on Renuka Singh, Charlie Dean and Kim Garth with the ball.

England's woes against spin in white-ball cricket

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

JOS Buttler was forced to defend the integrity of the visitors after Kevin Pietersen and Ravi Shastri, while on air, alleged that England have had one net session during this entire trip. "That's not quite true," a downcast looking Buttler said after their 16th ODI defeat in 23 games since the start of the 50-over World Cup in October 2023. I think we have had a reasonably long tour, a few travel days, there have been a couple of times we have not trained but we have certainly done plenty of training throughout the tour. We obviously try to create a really good environment, but don't make mistake that for a lazy environment or a lack of effort. The guys are desperate to perform, do well and improve."

Per reports, they did train normally but haven't trained post the first ODI in Nagpur on November 6, not as a group anyway. Setting aside the issue of whether or not they have trained on this tour, this is a team that has to rediscover their mojo, and very fast, if they are to be a force in the upcoming Champions Trophy. The one thing that has repeatedly ailed them while playing in India since the World Cup is the way they have handled spin. In each of the three ODIs, the openers got off to rapid starts (0/75, 0/81 and 0/60) before the middle-order came up a cropper against the tweakers. One reason why Joe Root has been brought back into the 50-over set-up is to solidify this aspect of their game. But it hasn't brought about the desired results, not yet anyway.

If they are to be competitive in Pakistan — and if they get far, Dubai — they will have to show better gumption against the slower bowlers. When the skipper was asked about the side's frailties against spin, the wicket-keeper said he had 'no concerns'. "Simply we have to be better," he said. "We have to be very confident in all the guys' games against spin. Guys have all the shots.

"Joe Root is probably one of the best players of spin in the world. Certainly a good guy to have in our team. Like I said, quite simply you can't put your finger on always why but we just have to be better and be more effective. Take the lessons from the opposition." Three games (eight if you want to count the preceding T20Is) may not be a big enough sample size but a pattern has played itself out. Axar Patel, Ravindra Jadeja, Kuldeep Yadav, Washington Sundar, Ravi Bishnoi and Washington Sundar... they have all been among the wickets this series. The table makes for sobering reading if you are an England fan; across the three 50-over games, they have lost a combined 13 for 341 in 71 overs. It's a worrying performance from a team having designs of winning the ICC event. Buttler did say India was the benchmark in this format but there was a time when England were the gold standard. "We're up against a good side in their own conditions, they're probably the benchmark in ODI cricket at the moment," Buttler said.

England batters vs Indian bowlers

Venue	Against pace	Against spin
1st ODI (Nagpur)	4/122 in 22 overs	5/117 in 25.4 overs
2nd ODI (Cuttack)	3/181 in 23.5 overs	4/121 in 26 overs
3rd ODI (Ahmedabad)	6/102 in 15 overs	4/103 in 19.2 overs

Patidar named RCB captain for 2025 IPL

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Royal Challengers Bengaluru team announced Rajat Patidar as new captain for the IPL 2025. The announcement on Thursday was preceded and followed by footage from teammates of Patidar, including Virat Kohli and Faf Du Plessis, wishing him the very best for the role. Accompanying Patidar for the event were Mo Bobat, director of cricket, and Andy Flower, RCB's head coach.

"We spent a long time discussing this. My discussions with him go back to last year, about his captaincy aspirations," said Bobat. The director said that the choice of captaincy this year was not something set in stone and that the RCB delegation had gone into the auction with an aim to primarily build a balanced squad. He stressed on the 'Indian core' of the team, and mentioned that the choice for captaincy ultimately boiled down to Patidar and RCB stalwart Virat Kohli.

Patidar's form in leading the state team was one of the key factors in his appointment as RCB captain.

Liverpool held by Everton in EPL

AGENCIES @ London

JAMES Tarkowski struck in the 98th minute to salvage a 2-2 draw for Everton against Liverpool as four red cards were issued after full-time on a dramatic final Merseyside derby at Goodison Park. Liverpool edge 7 points clear at the top of the Premier League but were denied a win by Tarkowski's blistering strike after Mo Salah put Arne Slot's men in front.

Wrestlers set to miss another Ranking Series

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

THE fight between the sports ministry and Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) is affecting the wrestlers as well. After missing out on an opportunity to compete at the first Ranking Series of the year in Zagreb, Croatia, Indian wrestlers may be forced to miss the second one scheduled in Tirana, Albania from February 26 to March 2. The WFI, which remains suspended by the sports ministry since December 2023 but is recognised by the international body, has sent a proposal to the Sports Authority of India (SAI) in this regard but has not received the sanction yet. The SAI had not given the nod for the Zagreb event as well. "We haven't received sanction order yet for the Muhamet Malo Ranking Series in Albania," Sanjay Kumar Singh, the WFI president, told this daily.

The WFI chief said the sports ministry's suspension has broken the federation financially as it is not able to find a sponsor for more than two years now. "Since January 2023, when the protest broke out, the WFI has not received any sponsorship. The previous sponsor, which had signed the deal till 2024, stopped the payment and it is still due. The suspension means the WFI is also not getting a new sponsor. Had we had the sponsors, we could have sent the team on our own but that's not the case," added Sanjay Singh.

In 2021, the Uttar Pradesh government decided to adopt wrestling till the 2032 Olympics. The then WFI chief Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh, who later had to relinquish the post due to charges of sexual harassment levelled against him by the wrestlers, had said the state government is expected to pump in an investment of Rs 170 crore in infrastructure and support to the wrestlers till the 2032 Games. He had also said that the sponsorships will not be restricted to the country's elite wrestlers as even cadet and junior grapplers will also get benefitted. However, the same has not materialised yet.

More importantly, the second Ranking Series will be followed by the Senior Asian Championships slated from March 25 to 30 in Amman, Jordan. Sanjay Singh said the WFI will not send a proposal for the continental tournament to the SAI if the latter does not accord sanction for the Ranking Series.

"The federation doesn't want wrestlers to suffer but cannot afford to send them for all the tournaments. However, the Asian Championships is an important event and we will try to send the team. We will wait for SAI's sanction for the second Ranking Series and if that doesn't come then we will not send a proposal to it for the continental tournament. We will send entries and try to arrange funds for the trip," said Sanjay Singh. A WFI source said if such a situation arises then the federation will conduct a 'talent hunt' to finalise the team for the Asian Championships. "We cannot conduct trials due to court order but a team can be put together from medallists of the National Games and Federation Cup, which is scheduled in the first week of March," the source said.

CL: Bayern sink Celtic, Feyenoord beat Milan

AGENCIES @ Paris

HARRY Kane was on target as Bayern Munich beat Celtic 2-1 in Glasgow in the first leg of their Champions League playoff on Wednesday, while there were also wins for Benfica, Feyenoord and Club Brugge.

Bayern are hoping to go all the way to this season's final, which will be played at their own Allianz Arena in Munich on May 31.

They threatened to run riot against the Scottish champions at Celtic Park as they dominated the first half and took the lead just before the interval thanks to a superb Michael Olise strike. Bayern's second goal came just four minutes after half-time, with the unmarked Kane scoring with a cushioned finish at the back post following a corner. It was Kane's seventh goal in this season's Champions League, and his 29th in 29 games in all competitions.

NATIONAL GAMES

Services maintain dominance, top medal tally

AGENCIES @ Dehradun

SERVICES continued its dominance in the National Games as it topped the medal tally at the 38th edition in Uttarakhand, achieving the feat for the fifth time in the last six Games, after a rather low key final day of competitions here on Thursday. Services bagged nine more medals on Thursday, including three gold, for a Games total haul of 121 (68 gold, 26 silver, 27 bronze). It had finished second behind Maharashtra in the 2023 edition in Goa.

Before that, it had topped the medal tally in four successive National Games (2007, 2011, 2015 and 2022). Maharashtra won more medals than Services with 198 (54 gold, 71 silver, 73 bronze) but the lesser number of gold meant that it ended at second spot. Even Haryana got more medals than Services with 153 (48 gold, 47 silver, 58 bronze) but had to be content with a third-place finish.

Karnataka (34 gold, 18 silver, 28 bronze) and Madhya Pradesh (33 gold, 26 silver, 23 bronze) finished at fourth and fifth positions respectively. Tamil Nadu (27 gold, 30 silver, 34 bronze), Uttarakhand (24 gold, 35 silver, 43 bronze), West Bengal (16 gold, 13 silver, 18 bronze), Punjab (15 gold, 20 silver, 31 bronze) and Delhi (15 gold, 18 silver, 29 bronze) rounded off the top-10. Curtains will be brought down on the 38th edition of the National Games, which began on January 28, with the closing ceremony to be held in Haldwani on Friday. In hockey competitions in Haridwar, Haryana took revenge of their defeat in last edition as they beat Madhya Pradesh 4-1 in the final to win the women's gold medal. Jharkhand defeated Maharashtra 2-1 to bag the bronze medal. In men's, Karnataka registered a hard-fought 3-2 victory over Uttar Pradesh to win the gold. Maharashtra beat Punjab 1-0 to clinch the bronze medal. West Bengal and Haryana shared the honours on the final day of gymnastics with two gold each in Dehradun.
